Debate Of Measure Limited To 20 Minutes For Each Senator By Rules

SEN. WAGNER SWITCHES

Former Advocate Of McCarran Amendment Argues Against It

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(UP)—Defeat of the McCarran prevailing wage amendment was urged in the senate today by one of its former supporters as the senate headed toward a vote on the most controversial issue connected with the work-relief bill.

Sen. Robert F. Wagner, D., N.Y., said congress could not afford longer to delay enactment of the $4,800,000,000 measure.

"Neither a feeling of self-righteousness, of pride or fear of public opinion should cause us to forget that our prime responsibility is to the millions of jobless people who need our help," Wagner said.

"Administration leaders predicted defeat of the prevailing wage amendment and adoption of the so-called Russell amendment, requiring the payment of code wages in permanent public buildings.

Labor Adament

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, meeting before the senate convened, refused to withdraw support of the McCarran amendment and reiterated an earlier refusal to back the Russell substitution.

Debate was limited to 20 minutes for each senator.

Wagner declared weeks of delay had plunged the senate into a "whirlpool of diverse and unrelated issues."

He called attention to the probability that the house would refuse to accept the McCarran amendment if the senate adopted it, and said that even if it passed congress, it would encounter a presidential veto.

Belief Unshaken

Wagner said he was "unshaken in my belief that the McCarran amendment charts the correct course."

"But the most feasible solution is to vote against the McCarran amendment," he said, "and to transfer that support to the Russell substitute."

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Idaho, asked "what is the real difference between the McCarran and the Russell amendments?"

"I see no difference," Wagner replied.

"Then why withdraw support from the McCarran amendment?" Borah shot back.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., who supported the McCarran amendment on the previous vote but switched to the other proposal, said there was a difference.

The Russell amendment contains specific provisions protecting the rates of wages under loans and grants," he said.

"Does the senator believe the Russell amendment will preserve the prevailing wage in this country?"

"I do," replied O'Mahoney.

Sen. Huey P. Long, D., La., kept a running fire on Sen. Robert F. Wagner, D., N.Y., and other senators who voted for the McCarran

LABOR OPPOSED TO DRAFTING INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor today opposed proposals to draft industry in wartime.

W. C. Hushing, speaking for William Green, A. F. of L. president, testified before the senate munitions committee that industrial conscription would be "slavery" and the morale of labor would be "shot" under such a plan.

"We are opposed to the profiteering that has gone on in the past," he said. "Any decent citizen should be. Labor certainly did not profit in the last war. Wages continually lagged behind price increases, and when union labor strayed, God only knows what happens to unorganized labor."

LATE NEWS FLASHES

NEW YORK, March 15.—(UP)—Primo Carnera will have a nine-and-a-half pound weight advantage over Ray Impellitteri tonight in their 10-round "battle of giants" at Madison Square Garden. Carnera scaled 268, Impellitteri, 258 1/2.

CALLED ON, March 15.—(UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne moved into the DaFoe hospital, home of the famous quintuplets, today, in protest against a bill in the Ontario legislature to make their five children wards of the government.

KENNEDY, Mo., March 15.—Six leviots gave way on the St. Francis river in flood-menaced sections of Missouri and Arkansas today, inundating additional thousands of acres of land and driving hundreds of families to high ground.

The ring was supposed to have been headed by Madame Lydia Stahl, a Russian who was educated in New York.

Income Taxes Delinquent At Midnight

After midnight tonight it will cost you just 25 per cent more on your federal income tax.

Today is the last day for filing income tax returns without penalty, it was pointed out by Manson Rouse, in charge of internal revenue for this county, with offices in the postoffice building here.

A crew of five experts are at the internal revenue department offices here today to assist in the last-minute rush of taxpayers. The office will be open until midnight tonight.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(UP)—The treasury today sent its 12,000 law enforcement agents into one of the mightiest federal crime drives in recent history.

Underworld rings from coast to coast felt the hammer blows of the sweeping raids.

It was estimated that the first descent of the agents on criminal strongholds brought well over 300 arrests. Additional arrests were reported hourly.

Progress was reported to Washington headquarters, where Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., personally watched the results.

Report Arrests

Treasury officials were deluged with telegrams from regional officials reporting arrests.

Customs guards, coast guards, secret service agents and narcotics investigators massed forces in the first day of a scheduled three day drive against smugglers, counterfeitors, bootleggers, narcotics traffic and racketeers.

The first blow in the campaign was struck in Washington, where treasury agents aided by local police arrested 12 persons, including five women, in a drug raid.

The new drive was patterned after a recent nationwide narcotics cleanup by treasury agents, who arrested about 900 persons.

Success of the first narcotics campaign led treasury officials to extend the drive to all points of law violation over which it has jurisdiction.

Tax Violators

Income tax violators have been subjected to a recently intensified

SECRETARY HOWE IS REPORTED IMPROVED

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(UP)—The government continued its efforts to pass the Dionne Quintuplet Guardianship bill through the legislature today after a clash with conservatives opposing the measure.

The bill, making the famous babies wards of the king, has aroused heated controversy. Several club women living in the neighborhood of the Dionne home have interested themselves in opposing the measure. The bill is expected to pass.

"All right," Hyde was quoted by Boyd as telling the girl after the quarrel. "You wait and see. Something will happen to me to-night."

When he was found at Wilmington, Hyde first said that two men and a woman had forced him to accompany them in an automobile, with one exception. He said Dionne wanted control of the trust fund being set aside for the quintuplets.

Police said the youth would be questioned here about the purported ransom letter which was said to have been postmarked in Philadelphia.

The ring was supposed to have been headed by Madame Lydia Stahl, a Russian who was educated in New York.

AMERICANS TO FACE CHARGES AS SPIES

PARIS, March 15.—(UP)—The famous spy case involving Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Switz of New York, in a vast international ring neared its climax today when Magistrate Pierre Benon signed a report ending his investigation of the case.

The Switzes were committed to trial with 22 others who are also in prison. A date for the trial was not fixed.

The indictment includes ten persons who are fugitives. Two of those suspected were absolved in the report.

Nine of the others held are women.

The ring was supposed to have been headed by Madame Lydia Stahl, a Russian who was educated in New York.

Boatmen Arrive From Bottom Lands With Refugees During Night

By United Press

FLOOD WATERS over 100,000 acres of the lower Mississippi river valley today drove 10,000 persons to emergency shelters in five states and menaced the homes of thousands of others.

Three men, Negroes, were known to have drowned in the muddy sea centering around the boundary junctions of Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas and Kentucky. Several other persons were missing.

Danger of a flood comparable to that of 1927 when the Mississippi routed 100,000 persons from their homes was minimized by predictions of fair weather. In many localities, however, the flood crest will not arrive until Saturday.

Flood waters of the St. Francis river broke through the levees in three places at Kennett, Mo., inundating additional thousands of acres of evacuated farm lands.

The break lessened the tension on other levees, but it was feared when the waters receded other sections would go out by reversal of the strain.

Boatmen arrived every hour from the St. Francis bottom lands with new loads of shivering and weeping men, women and children taken from roof tops.

A survey made by the Red Cross which is furnishing food, medicine and shelter to 3000 families, showed 6000 persons had been driven from their homes last night. Residences of 7000 others were threatened.

Conditions improved slightly in Kentucky, southern Illinois, Mississippi and the upper reaches of the Ohio river. Highways near many tributary streams were impassable and railroads reported frequent washouts from Cincinnati to Cairo, but the danger of a major flood of the main stream was believed past.

Cold weather, halting melting of snow, brought relief to the Jackson, Miss., district. Water receded a few inches hourly from the silt-marked high water lines on hundreds of city homes in Jackson and East Jackson, where the roaring Pearl river swept over thousands of acres Wednesday night.

Success, Ark., was isolated, with 250 inhabitants and 200 refugees from rural lowlands trapped in 50 houses. Water stood eight feet deep around the town, covering thousands of acres of planted wheat.

Hopkins said city relief rolls listed 2,397,336 families and individuals in January and 2,193,073 in February. Costs declined from $75,875,603

fewer cases than in January.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(UP)—Federal relief costs showed "unusually important" decreases in February, Administrator Harry Hopkins said today. Reports from 142 major cities showed 4,307

fewer cases than in January.

Costs of feeding and clothing needy in metropolitan areas declined $7,262,371 during the two-month period. State contributions are averaging about $50,000,000 a month, $29,000,000 more than their low point 15 months ago.

Continuation of relief activities during the last two weeks of March were assured when FERA received $87,999,000 from the $319,000,000 in PWA funds impounded by President Roosevelt.

Hopkins announced progress in the government's plan to convert submarginal land into recreational parks and forest preserves in 25 states. The land division of FERA he said, has spent more than $16,000,000 of its $25,000,000 fund procuring options on 4,403,000 acres at an average of $4 an acre.

amendment on February 21 but who have switched to a compromise offered by Sen. Richard Russell, D. Ga.

A vote on the McCarran amendment was expected this afternoon. The senate then was expected to accept the Russell amendment, which charges the president with responsibility for maintaining existing wage scales.

Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson, announcing that the Russell proposal was satisfactory to the White House and would not encounter the veto which was threatened on the McCarran amendment, backed the compromise.

The Russell amendment is in my opinion a fair compromise," Robinson said.

Long criticized Warner's position, and in effect conceded defeat.

"Moses landed with only two," Long said, referring to the Biblical story of the number who remained faithful to Moses in the voyage of the children of Israel into the promised land.

The senator from Nevada (McCarran) probably will land with only two. He has his own vote and he has mine. At least he'll equal Moses' record."

Long said Wagner "is a mover in the senate."

DELAY TAKE-OFF OF ROBOT PLANE TODAY

OAKLAND, CAL., March 15. — (UP)—Unfavorable weather today delayed the take-off of a mystery plane on a flight from Oakland to Honolulu in testing a robot pilot and a new radio compass.

The flight will be made as soon as weather conditions improve on the Hawaiian Islands.

The white stream-lined Douglas air liner selected for the test of blind flying equipment stood on the runway at the Oakland airport ready for the words "go on to Honolulu."

Its tanks were filled to the brim with 1,500 gallons of gasoline. Life rafts and flares were stored aboard. Forty sandwiches were in a hamper in the cabin.

The fliers—department of commerce and U. S. Army Air Corps experts—waited at the Airport Inn, close to the field, for the take-off signal.

which affect normal schools in Fresno, San Diego, Santa Barbara, San Jose, San Francisco, Chico and Arcata, and possibly make a four-year college out of the Sacramento junior college, formed a highlight of legislative activities today.

Both houses passed numerous routine bills of technical nature, more than 100 such measures having been cleared by the assembly this week and sent to the senate.

The lower house devoted most of the morning session to celebrating St. Patrick's day. The assembly was turned into a convention for "friends of the Irish" with Assemblyman Thomas A. Maloney, San Francisco, presiding. Amid waves of laughter, Assemblyman Patrick J. MacMurray, San Francisco, was elected secretary of the convention.

Shamrocks and baseball hats were in evidence everywhere as the assemblymen devoted a period to playing before adjourning for the weekend.

The senate held a short session then recessed until 11 a. m. Monday.

Long said Wagner "is a mover in the senate."

Court Notes

Paul J. McCoy today filed suit in superior court against Life Savers, Inc.; Life Savers, Sales, Inc.; and William O. Burla, employee of that concern, asking $30,961 damages for injuries and losses he sustained as the result of an automobile crash last November 20, on the Coast highway, north of San Clemente. He asked $20,000 for his injuries, $10,000 for loss of earnings and earning ability, and $961 for medical and other expenses.

The trial of Bert Stark, 31, Orange, charged with grand theft of $14 from C. R. Chilcoat, of Costa Mesa, adjourned late yesterday until Monday in Judge H. G. Ames' court, the taking of testimony not being completed.

ATTEND CELEBRATION

FULLERTON, March 15.—Mrs. J. Antoinette Nenno, Miss Faustina Nenno; a cousin, Mrs. Adah Ballard, and Will Nenno, of Anaheim, attended the golden wedding celebration of their cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nenno, at Pomona, this week.

SAYS:

SANTA MONICA, March 15.—(To the Editor of The Register:) I was reading a rather surprising thing. Of course you knew that a lot of the States are bonding themselves very heavily to pay their proportionate share of their own relief. But did you know that some of 'em don't do anything. They just let the Federal government pay the whole thing. Now that thing can't go on. You are going to hear a howl like a pet coon. If they find out the government is handing out a whole biscuit to one State and just a half to another State, they going to testify at the ballot box in 1936. Yours, WILL ROGERS.

congress to close the banks, he would have been defeated.

"But with President Roosevelt, the blossom was too new. He was able to close the banks and plough up the cotton."

In attacking the administration's opposition to the prevailing wage amendment to the administration's work relief bill, which now pends in the senate, Long said:

"Under the prevailing wage, a worker would have to work from 900 years before Christ to the present day to earn as much as Andrew Mellon's son will make this year."

His audience seemed interested, but not enthusiastic. Long spoke extemporaneously. His appearance was sponsored by the Congress Club of the 28th ward, an independent Republican organization.

when only a few yards in the air.

Minus the gear, he had only a belly skid on which to land.

He circled the airport once and then, gaining altitude fast, headed eastward.

Since he carried no radio equipment and since he intended to fly at 35,000 feet, no reports were expected from him until he reached New York or was forced down at some intermediate point.

To fall short of his goal might have serious consequences. On Post's first attempt to make the flight he pointed out how fortunate he was to have been within reach of the Muroc dry lake when he was forced down.

Its smooth, even bed, over which motorcycle and automobile speed tests frequently are made, presented an ideal place to bring the Winnie Mae down on the "belly skids."

His plane was only slightly damaged and Post was not injured.

Without the convenient, made-to-order lake bed his landing might have been disastrous, he admitted.

After that flight, Post said he was convinced that, although he was in the air only a short time, he had proved the feasibility of using the higher altitudes for commercial craft.

Radio Compass

Post intended to steer his course by a radio compass. He expected to "just tune in on one of the 50,000-watt New York radio stations and follow the music in."

The route he expected to follow would take him near Pueblo, Colo., St. Joseph, Mo., Springfield, Ill., Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Pittsburgh.

Post clothed his take-off with such secrecy that it was not known to his publicity man until a few minutes before the Winnie Mae roared away.

It was almost marred by an accident for the official timer, Harold Hitchman, speeding his automobile to get in position to clock the exact moment of the takeoff got in the way of another plane just taking off. The pilot practically hedge-hopped Hitchman's car.

The Winnie Mae carried 380 gallons of gasoline, regarded as a sufficient supply to keep her aloft for 10 hours, although Post expected to reach New York in seven hours or less.

Should he do so he was certain of a new west-east record, that mark of 10 hours and four minutes now being held by Col. Rossco Turner.

Sabotage was blamed for Post's failure in his previous attempt to dash through 80 degree-below-zero temperatures to the Atlantic. A foreign substance found its way into his motor and caused a break in an oil line. Post's associates claimed the substance must have been planted deliberately.

The only damage to Post's plane in the forced landing was to the special propeller with which the Winnie Mae was fitted. It was designed to halt horizontal to the ground to prevent its striking and nosing the craft over. He used a similar propeller on today's trip.

ATTEMPTS MADE ON LIFE OF KING SAUD

LONDON, March 15.—(UP)—The Saudi Arabian legation announced today that an unsuccessful attempt had been made in Mecca to assassinate King Ibn Saud.

The Saudi Arabian kingdom, formerly the kingdom of the Hejaz and Nejd, is the dominant state in Arabia. Ibn Saud was proclaimed king in 1926.

Three assassins armed with daggers tried to stab Ibn Saud and the crown prince while they were walking around the Kaaba or "holy stone" of the sacred city.

Royal bodyguards shot the assassins.

substantial improvement to all property and would be most desirable undertaking in co-operation with the government relief program."

Hall has been a resident of Santa Ana for the past 16 years, during which time he built and for two years operated the service station at 710 East First street, now now conducted by Bill Jones. Other activities included operation of the Gowdy service station on East Fourth street for a time, a grocery store at 207 Oak street which he constructed, and more recently he has been assisting his son in conduct of his radio business at that location.

During a previous residence in Santa Ana in 1906, Hall assisted in the construction and operation of the gas plant on East First street, and returned here again in 1916 during which period he operated a vulcanizing business where the Jerry Hall tire store is now located, and also headed a field crew for the Fay Packing company.

Prior to coming to California, Hall conducted farming operations in Iowa, in the Des Moines district, and served as secretary of the board of directors in charge of five schools.

Hall was selected to be the candidate from the third ward by the Taxpayers League group as best fitted to carry out the municipal economy program sponsored by A. F. LeGaye, former councilman.

COMPLAINT ON CASE JUDGMENT IS RULED OUT

High tribute to the results obtained in exclusive advertising in The Register was paid today by J. H. Rankin, president and founder of Rankin's Dry Goods store, and Herbert P. Rankin, secretary-treasurer and general manager, in a letter to The Register.

The letter read: "We wish to thank The Register for the kind editorial mention of us, and also for recognition of our organization in the news columns.

"We have found, that Register advertising pulls, and that is why we are using it exclusively. Since the very inception of The Register, we do not recall a time when Rankin's name has not been presented to your readers in advertising, and to that may be attributed a substantial measure of our success."

Rankin's popular store is in the midst of the celebration of its forty-first anniversary. The anniversary is being celebrated by a sale of 15 days duration, which started Wednesday. The store's complete stock of regular Rankin quality merchandise is being offered at extremely low prices, paying dividends of good will.

The store now is looking forward to the time when it will celebrate its golden anniversary event.

$15,000 BOND ON
DOCTOR EXONERATED

Six prominent Fullerton citizens who had furnished $15,000 bond for the release of Dr. Francis D. Coltrin, elderly Fullerton physician awaiting trial on charges of murder and performing an illegal operation on a 16-year-old Santa Ana girl, today asked Superior Judge James L. Allen to release them from the bond. The court granted their request and ordered the bond exonerated.

Dr. Coltrin has been rearrested and is being held in the county jail under an additional $50,000 bail, charged with performing a second illegal operation upon Mrs. Chalmis Marshall, 27, of Anaheim, March 1, a week after being released from jail following his first arrest.

The condition of Mrs. Marshall, reported serious yesterday at the county hospital, remains unchanged, it was stated today.

Holding that he was thus made liable for repayment of the judgment, Cleaver sued Wettlin and the others for the amount paid. The demurrer filed held that his suit was prematurely brought, as he has not yet been forced to pay the judgment again, and therefore has not been damaged.

A statement issued recently by Head, Rutan and Judge Scovel explained that they considered there was neither moral nor legal liability resting upon them as they had received no part of the judgment; had not even received their fee, in fact.

BEFORE VOTERS

Fred C. Rowland, below, Santa Ana rancher and insurance man, today formally announced his candidacy for election to the city council, of which he is an appointive member.

ROWLAND SEEKS ELECTION TO COUNCIL POST

Announcing his candidacy for city councilman from the third ward, Fred C. Rowland said to-day:

"I have lived in Santa Ana 25 years. Having lived here that long, quite a number of voters know me. Those who do not know me, have ways of finding out whether I am honest, fair-minded and sincere in my attitude toward others. If those who know me and those who want to make inquiry concerning me want me to be one of their city councilmen, I am willing to serve."

Rowland was appointed councilman several months ago to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Paul Witmer. His formal announcement said: "His community activities during his residence in Santa Ana since his arrival here a quarter of a century ago this April have been many and varied. He has been active in a number of organizations, including the walnut growers association, the Congregational church and the Cantando club. In addition to orange growing on his ranch on McClay street, where he lives, Rowland has engaged in life insurance business."

The suit grew out of a damage judgment gained against Cleaver in 1931 by Jose Parra, client of Wettlin. Wettlin had associated the former firm of Head, Rutan and Scovel with him for the purpose of trial, Scovel conducting the trial for him.

Cleaver paid the judgment to Wettlin February 9, 1931, he alleged. Wettlin, it is said, took the check to Head, for endorsement, telling Head that the client could not be located, but that the money would be deposited in a special fund until he was located.

Holding that he was thus made liable for repayment of the judgment, Cleaver sued Wettlin and the others for the amount paid. The demurrer filed held that his suit was prematurely brought, as he has not yet been forced to pay the judgment again, and therefore has not been damaged.

A statement issued recently by Head, Rutan and Judge Scovel explained that they considered there was neither moral nor legal liability resting upon them as they had received no part of the judgment; had not even received their fee, in fact.

W. B. TAYLOR CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

CANDIDATE
Wilfred B. Taylor, below, Santa Ana banker, today announced his candidacy for election to the city school board.

REELECTION IS SOUGHT BY J. G. MITCHELL

J. G. Mitchell announced today that he was a candidate for re-election to the office of city judge and city recorder.

He was elected to the position for four years by a large majority in April, 1931.

"I feel that I have been in the work long enough to be qualified for the office which I again seek, and I believe that during the past four years I have performed the duties to the satisfaction of the citizens of Santa Ana. This is the reason I ask them to again elect me to the office of city judge. My record for the past four years is the best guarantee of how the office will be conducted should I be re-elected," he said.

He cited the following figures from court records: Disposed of 5129 cases and $42,624.25 in fines collected to March 1, 1935.

Judge Mitchell is a member of the Elks, Order of the Eastern Star and Masonic lodges, the Kiwanis club, and Congregational church, and is chairman of the advisory board of the Salvation Army. He is a property owner and taxpayer, and has lived in Santa Ana for 21 years.

Burr Talbert, W. H. Lowry, Charles Deaver, Anna Dilley, Otto Linnert, A. Trapp, M. Holmes, Owen Smith, Jerome Westfall, Alvin Clifford, H. F. Taylor, M. L. Pearson, Fred Wells, Margaret Ockles, Melle Chapman, Jane Welsh, W. C. Ahlman, H. Beines, Clyde Watson, F. M. Gullick, H. L. Haynes and Miss Bertha Youngs, Miss Adele Post and Miss Lula Phillips.

Judge J. G. Mitchell, below, today announced his candidacy for re-election as city judge and city recorder.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, March 15.—Mrs. W. C. Calderwood returned from the hospital Sunday afternoon with her two weeks old son.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Richardson and children, Carol and Bettie Ellen, were guests at the J. S. Kohler home Sunday. The Richardson family came to California recently from Nebraska. Mrs. Richardson is Mrs. Kohler's niece. Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Kohler and Mrs. Elizabeth Kohler were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kohler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wilcox and baby son, of Hemet, were recent visitors at the W. C. Calderwood home.

Announcement of candidacy for election to the Santa Ana board of education was made today by Wilfred B. Taylor, young Santa Ana banker, who issued the following statement:

"At the urging of several citizens who themselves have given generously of their limited leisure time to unremunerative public service, I have decided to enter my name in candidacy for election to the board of education. I do so in the hope of being able to render useful service to our public schools and to obtain practical experience in a field of public administration that holds my interest."

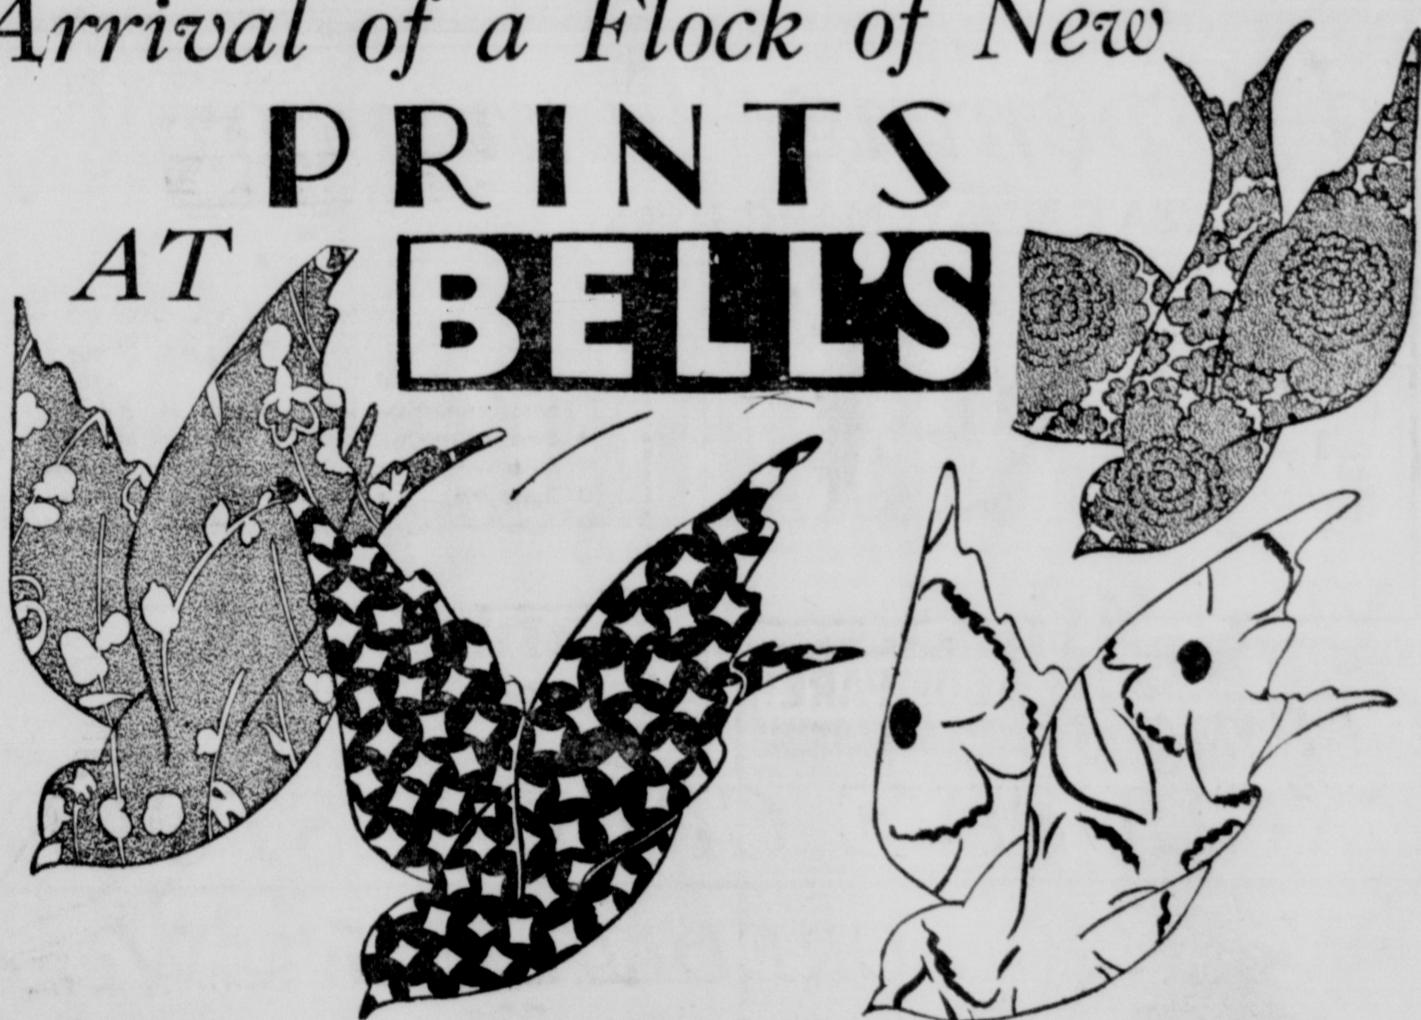

"Through business experience and observation, I believe I am fully aware of the financial realities which demand the utmost in economy in school operation."

"While I have spent the last six years in the banking business, I have retained a continuing relationship with teachers and instructors in both college and public school work since leaving university. This has, I think, given me a sympathetic understanding of their problems and point of view."

"I hope I correctly classify myself as a continuing student of the rapidly changing world in which we live, and as such to be able to contribute to the formation of educational policy adapted to the needs of today. If elected, I shall make a sincere effort to maintain a good educational program, give just consideration to the teacher's point of view, sustain academic freedom and squarely face financial necessity."

ECONOMIC DEMOCRACY NEED STRESSED IN DISCUSSION OF COOPERATIVE ENDEAVOR

"Political democracy isn't worth a nickel without economic democracy," declared the Rev. Cloyd Gustafson, minister of the Southwest Community Church, Los Angeles, in preaching an "organization of consumption" as a factor to balance organized production in the present economic structure.

Speaking on the subject of "Co-operatives," the Rev. Mr. Gustafson, a student of these organizations in various foreign countries as well as at home, pointed out the possibilities for successful solution of economic problems of the masses through such instrumentality as the cooperative of the Rochdale type in England.

Such organization has its political benefits, as well as the economic, he emphasized, saying that, "before you can have influence in legislative halls, you must have the backing of those organized for their own economic benefit. Otherwise, your representatives are either bought or intimidated as soon as they reach the legislative halls."

It costs $50,000 to elect a mayor in Los Angeles, he added. The keynote to the success of the cooperative plan, as it has become established abroad, is its feature of returning surplus profits to the consumer member. This factor, he said, has resulted in a distribution of wealth. In Denmark, for example, it has produced few multimillionaires, but also has produced very little poverty, he declared.

Benefits in Denmark
Today, 90 per cent of all Danish retail business is cooperative, said the speaker. The Danish farmer has become the most intelligent in Europe, extending his benefits from the economic to the cultural. Formerly, 42 per cent of the Danish farmers were tenants; now there are only 10 per cent in that class. Illiteracy has dropped to one-fourth of one per cent of the population.

In Sweden, one-third of all retail business is done through cooperatives. During one year of the present depression, Sweden appropriated $40,000,000 for unemployment relief. The next year only $15,000,000 was appropriated, and not all of that was spent. Sweden's cooperatives have accomplished striking results in breaking continental manufacturing monopolies, and getting the price of such products down to "reason," he said.

Finland is almost completely a cooperative nation, he stated. Capitalism still survives, but the cooperative movement acts as a stabilizer.

The cooperative movement, originating with the Rochdale plan in England in 1844, now has spread to 51 countries, and includes 100,000 consumers in 260,000 societies. Its yearly gross volume of business reaches $20,000,000,000, he said.

Different Attack
The cooperative idea is to attack the economic question from the consumption end rather than the production end, said the speaker. "You cannot succeed by producing blindly for an unknown market," he declared.

In England four-sevenths of the entire retail business is done by cooperatives, which had nearly 7,000,000 members in 1929, and returned surpluses of $131,000 to the consumers.

Under the Rochdale plan, he explained, the various retail societies federate themselves, and organize a wholesale society, to eliminate the profit of the wholesaler. They next organize factories and manufacture their own products, again piling up a saving for themselves, instead of a fortune for the manufacturer.

The speaker startled his audience by an exposition of the profit system, early in his talk.

"How does the profit system work?" he asked, and then himself illustrated the plan on a blackboard, to show why the profit system cannot work permanently.

It consists of four factors, he said: land, labor, capital and organization. Land is compensated by rent; labor is compensated by wages; capital is compensated by dividends; organization is compensated by salary.

The completed product of this combination belongs to the owner, he pointed out. The owner is compensated by profits.

"But," he said, "the system depends upon buying power for the consumption of these products. And the total buying power of the society, all of which falls within the four divisions: land, labor, capital and organization, must necessarily be exactly equal to the compensation received by those four groups or divisions. They cannot pay out any more than they receive. Thus, the owner, cannot take in any more than he pays out. So where is his profit?"

That, he intimated, was the real cause behind the present economic breakdown. The profit system, he pointed out, is comparatively new in human history, being launched after the collapse of the feudal system less than two centuries ago.

Audrey Benjamin Hostess To Club

TUSTIN, March 15.—Members of the Okey-Dokey club were participants in a merry affair Tuesday night when they were guests of Miss Audrey Benjamin at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. Benjamin. Quantities of spring flowers were used in decorating the rooms.

FOLLOWING a chop-suey dinner at 6:30 o'clock, the girls attended a Santa Ana theater. Club members who were over-night guests of their hostess were the Misses Anna Sutherland, Madeleine McKnight, Eunice LaBrow, Margaret Peacock and Irene Plety.

SEAL BEACH, March 15.—The P.T.A. card party given this week was well attended. Bridge, "500" and pinochle were played, with Miss Marjorie Strain and E. W. Reed winning in bridge, Mrs. Emma Hurtle and J. H. McGaugh in "500" and M. Huguenin and Mrs. J. C. Putnam in pinochle. The final party in the series of card parties and the presentation of the grand prizes will be April 30.

WORK OUTLINED BY JOEL OGLE IS CANDIDATE FOR CITY ATTORNEY

YORBA LINDA, March 15.—Mrs. A. Leroy Grimm, president of the Orange County Women's Christian Temperance union, a member of the Placentia union, and Mrs. Ivon Pike, president of the Placentia union were principal speakers Tuesday at the meeting of the Placentia group held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Cram at Yorba Linda.

The topic of the day was "Union Signal." The group voted to send to each minister of Yorba Linda and Placentia a subscription for a year to the Union Signal, the group publication.

Mrs. Grimm talked on "Are We a Holdfast Union?" and Mrs. Pike discussed plans of carrying on the work. Mrs. Theresa Ross led the devotions and presented members of her I. X. L. Scouts of the Friends Sunday school in a program feature.

Because Mrs. Hazel Mayfield resigned, Mrs. Jessie Rouse was appointed program chairman for the balance of the year.

Joel Ogle, assistant city attorney for the past three years, today announced his candidacy for the office of city attorney in the April 8 election.

"In announcing my candidacy for city attorney, I wish to state that I have had my home in Santa Ana for 11 years," Ogle said in his announcement. "I took up the practice of law here in 1920. I have been assistant city attorney of Santa Ana for the past three years and am therefore familiar with the workings of this office. I am not encouraged or financed by any individual, body, or corporation in this election. I believe in accomplishing the most benefit for the greatest number of people, and special favors or revenges to none.

"It is granted that we as a United States are, and have been for some time, in a chaotic state and although this office can do little pertaining to national problems, I feel that certain policies should be followed even to the smallest public office.

"I feel that our neighbors' troubles and wants should be given consideration and assistance—just as the early settlers did in founding this nation. There has been in the past no consideration given to our fathers and mothers who have contributed much to society and even have given of their sons' lives in time of war, and now in their old age they no longer seem, to some, useful to society. I believe that it is as much our duty as citizens to take care of these aged as it is to build battleships for war.

"There is now for the first time a plan for these forgotten ones and that is the Townsend Plan. I therefore endorse it to the letter."

Heavyweight Destroyer Ready

The Aylwin, first of the new heavy armored destroyers being built for the U. S. Navy, has been commissioned for duty with the fleet. The ship is shown at Philadelphia Navy Yard where, in the six months since it was launched, it has been fully equipped for war service.

Cuba's 'Strong Man' in New Crisis

Cuba's strong man, Col. Fulgencio Batista, army staff chief and ex-sergeant who has made and unmade Cuban presidents, again stepped to the stage center, as he acted to avert a general strike that it was feared might lead to revolution in the island. Batista is shown here, right, as he presented "wings" to a new pilot at a Cuban army air corps ceremony, near Havana, a few days ago.

Noted Painter Has Mate for 'War

Grant Wood, foremost teacher of U. S. representational art, stirred up more storms such as followed unveiling of his "American Gothic" and "Daughters of the Revolution," he'll have help against his patriotic critics. The noted Iowa painter now has a bride to stand by him. The two are shown here after their marriage, which culminated a childhood romance. Mrs. Wood was Sara Sherman Mason, former light opera singer.

Firing Verbal Shots at F. D. R. Foes

Unleashing a picturesque vocabulary against Father Charles E. Coughlin and Senator Huey Long, former NRA administrator General Hugh S. Johnson, pictured as he spoke at a dinner in New York celebrating publication of his memoirs, warned that chaos and dictatorship impended if the 80 million "busted babies" followed the "pied piper" of the "lunatic fringe" of politics in their attacks on the Roosevelt recovery plan.

In a deep study sits Jean Acker, first wife of Rudolph Valentino, pondering the double task which she has set herself—a comeback in the films and the writing of a book in which Valentino will play a prominent part. Miss Acker, who lost her fortune in the 1929 crash, already has won a role in a film now being produced.

Mellon Concentrates on Fight

Jersey Executioner

Robert Eliot, executioner who has sent 110 men to their doom in the penitentiary at Trenton, N. J., awaits the call to carry out the sentence imposed on Bruno Hauptmann. Five more are scheduled to die in the electric chair before Hauptmann.

One of America's wealthiest men—his personal fortune revealed as $97,603,000—white-haired Andrew W. Mellon at one month short of his 80th birthday finds himself both defendant and plaintiff in the Pittsburgh hearing into charges that he owes $3,000,000 in income taxes for 1931 to the U. S. treasury over which he presided in the Hoover administration. Mellon, shown here intently studying papers in the case, insists the government owes him a refund of $139,045.

Extras Play at Wealth, as Poverty Lies in Wait

Poverty and despair sit in the shadows behind the immaculately garbed men at the left and the beautifully dressed women at the right, a throng that well might grace a Gold Coast lavish social affair. The impression of wealth that they convey belongs only to the make-believe. They are the "dress extras" of Hollywood, gathered in a theater to face the elimination tests that cut their number from about 1500 to less than a sixth of that figure, so a living wage can be paid those surviving the ordeal.

Huey and Farley—A Pair of Pals

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Mar. 15.—(UP)—A seemingly endless battle between Democrats and Republicans got away to a good start in the assembly when the first few of many controversial measures were discussed on the floor.

Twenty-eight Democrats headed by William Moseley Jones have banded together in a strong bloc and are seeking 13 more supporters from the ranks of administration-sympathetic Democrats and progressive Republicans. If they should win 13 to their cause, the Bourbon bloc could control the activities of the lower house, throw out Governor Frank F. Merriam's tax program, develop their own ideas on unemployment relief, and generally make the assembly a hotbed of action.

There was little likelihood of their organizing a solid group of

LEGISLATIVE SIDELIGHTS

By United Press

41, however. And if they did, the senate probably would crush any unusual movement started in the lower house, because a majority of senators are quick to fight proposals advocated by Jones or his followers on the ground the ideas may smack of EPIC-ism.

It is obvious that the assembly will not accept Merriam's program without a fight. Democrats claim they will have enough support to stop all proposals they dislike. Administration leaders are confident "everything will be all right."

Merriam's troubles were not confined to the assembly. County supervisors, in annual convention here, hurled charges against the administration's proposal to put all roads in the state highway system. "Simply a plan to form a gigantic political machine," many supervisors said. They were supported in their attacks by Controller Ray L. Riley, formerly a supervisor.

When the governor addressed the supervisors and told them $16,000,000 could be saved taxpayers biennially if the highway unicification program is adopted, they asked for proof. He said the figures were in his office.

On the last day of the convention, supervisors asked that the governor appear before them again and explain his assertion. They had obtained technical information and were primed to dispute him. The governor, however, was out of town, so they asked for Earl Lee Kelly, director

There were objections to almost every measure presented, particularly in the assembly where lengthy debates were held on minor questions.

The only major accomplishment the first week was legislative approval—after several fights—of a bill authorizing the governor to borrow from special funds to continue SERA work pending sale of the $24,000,000 unemployment relief bond issue next month.

Newport Renews Fight To Get Government Hospital

RESOLUTION OF VETERANS SENT TO GEN. HINES

NEWPORT BEACH, March 15.—Efforts to secure the new veterans' hospital for nervous and mental diseases for Corona Del Mar were renewed here this week as the chamber of commerce and civic bodies of the community pledged their aid in the fight.

Word was received from the Veterans' Civic Association of California that a resolution urging the building of the hospital on the Corona Del Mar site was being forwarded to General Frank T. Hines, head of veterans' administration in Washington. The veterans' association committee, on which were prominent neurologists, unanimously endorsed the Corona Del Mar site, the letter from Frank M. Colville, secretary, stated. The association includes members of the United Spanish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled Veterans of the World War and the American Legion.

The Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce will send petitions to Congress urging speedy action on the matter. It was revealed that the bill containing the provisions for the Corona Del Mar hospital is still in the house committee, but it is expected to be voted on to the floor of the house soon.

The chamber of commerce committee which is working on the matter is composed of Irvin George Gordon, chairman, assisted by Claude Pullen, Gus Tampis, Ray Saunders and H. L. Sherman.

HOLD FUNERAL OF MRS. JOHN ANGELL

WESTMINSTER, March 15.—Funeral services for Mrs. John M. Angell, whose death occurred Monday morning were held from the Harrell and Brown Funeral parlor Wednesday with interment following in Westminster Memorial park. Mrs. Angell underwent a major operation last week. She had been a resident of Westminster for seven years.

The Rev. George Greer, assistant pastor of the Westminster church, conducted the service, with the Rev. Charles H. Swift, pastor of the First Christian church of Wilmington, a friend of many years standing, reading the poem, "Crossing the Bar."

"Neare My God to Thee" and "It Is Well With My Soul," were sung by the Harrell trio.

Pallbearers were Aaron Olmstead and Cid Doolittle, of Long Beach; Waldo Huffman and Wayland Rippetoe, of Westminster; Walter Harner, of Bellflower; Walter Ferguson, of Azusa.

Manie S. Walsh was born June 25, 1875, being married at the age of 18 to W. T. Ferguson, who passed away two years later. She was married to John M. Angell in 1907. She is survived by her husband, one son, Virgil W. Ferguson, and two grandchildren, Virgina and Richard Ferguson.

There was a large attendance at the services and the many flowers attested to the esteem in which she was held by her friends.

NEWPORT BEACH, March 15.—A large attendance is expected at the public benefit card party to be sponsored by the Newport Beach Business and Professional Women's club tonight at the Epiphany clubhouse. The affair will start at 8 o'clock.

Miss Dorothy Crane, chairman of the Girl Scouts committee of the club, is in charge of the event, which will be held as benefit for the harbor Girl Scout troops. Assisting Miss Crane will be Miss Marie Heffern, in charge of refreshments. Contract and auction bridge and "500" will be played.

GAIN IN AUTO CRASHES SINCE REPEAL CITED

NEWPORT BEACH, March 15.—Portraying Abraham Lincoln as one of the great prohibition leaders of his day, Dr. E. E. Helms, of Los Angeles, gave an address in the Community church Wednesday night under the heading "Abraham Lincoln Comes to Town."

Lincoln was always a great champion of the prohibition cause, the speaker said, being a charter member of the "Washingtonians," one of the first organizations founded in the United States for the championing of the dry cause. In a code for behavior for young men made by Lincoln, the first admonition on the list was "Don't drink," he said.

"Alcohol is classed as a simple stimulant by many," the speaker said, "and for many years it was used by the medical profession as such, but now the best doctors have discontinued using it and say it is a poison, fundamentally the same as opium. Accordingly there is but one way to handle it, and that is to sell it on the open market, but label it as what it is, a poison."

"Arrests for drunken driving have gone up over 200 per cent in the United States since the repeal of the 18th amendment. Keeley cure institutions have received an increase in patients over 500 per cent. Instead of the saloon alone as a place to buy strong drinks, there are 44 different kinds of business places that handle it. Schools are being closed by the hundreds and saloons, a form of business for handling strong drinks that the wets used to promise the people wouldn't come back, are being started by the thousand."

Dr. Helms gave the lecture under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon league. He insisted that the voters all write to their state legislators urging them to support bills No. 56 and 1009, measures tending to regulate the sale of liquor.

SEEK KITE PRIZES

WESTMINSTER, March 15.—Local business firms will be contacted by a chamber of commerce committee appointed at this week's monthly meeting in regard to prize awards for the annual kite contest, March 30. Day Drezler was appointed chairman of this committee with Everett Hylton and Wandise Bealer as other members. Cland Hardesty is general chairman of the kite event.

Manie S. Walsh was born June 25, 1875, being married at the age of 18 to W. T. Ferguson, who passed away two years later. She was married to John M. Angell in 1907. She is survived by her husband, one son, Virgil W. Ferguson, and two grandchildren, Virgina and Richard Ferguson.

There was a large attendance at the services and the many flowers attested to the esteem in which she was held by her friends.

COUNCIL WORK OUTLINED FOR CHURCH GROUP

NEWPORT BEACH, March 15.—The council work outlined for the church group will be conducted by the church group.

BREA, March 15.—Dr. Truman Douglas, pastor of the Pomona Congregational church, was the speaker at the forum held in the Congregational church here this week, his topic being "The Council for Social Action in Congregational and Christian Churches." Dr. Douglas is a member of the council.

"The council," he said, "organized only last June, embodies the intent and dream of the life of Jesus, expressing a passion which will not let us rest until every obstacle to the realization of that dream has been broken down.

Those back of the movement are forward-looking men and women who take the teachings of Jesus for actual truth and who realize the great need of extending it in practice as well as in theory. They have caught a vision of a redeemed world, redeemed not only in men's lives but in their relations with others.

"We send teachers to the Orient and other countries to tell them of Christianity and they send their young people to America to learn of our civilization, founded on this religion, only to find them excluded from our social and Christian life. Instead of a need of more churches there is a great need for more Christianity. We have a wonderful machinery for the building of more and finer churches, and for extending our mission fields, but not so efficient machinery for the intensifying Christianity."

The forum followed the fellowship dinner which was served by a committee comprising Mrs. J. D. Neuls, Mrs. H. R. Williams, Mrs. W. D. Tremaine, Mrs. R. M. Ross and Mrs. Stella Keene.

Ira MacNames assisted in the program by leading group singing, and he also sang a solo. The group will take a course of study when organized, and will probably meet each two weeks.

BIRTHDAYS OBSERVED

WINTERSBURG, March 15.—Complimenting two friends, Mrs. Jessie Stussy of Bellflower and Mrs. D. J. Uelson of Boulevard Gardens, was hostess this week in observance of the birthday anniversaries of the two. St. Patrick features were used, the center piece at the table being Irish potatoes. Place cards were shamrocks. The Misses Norma Lee Lopp and Elvanda Irwin served, and the green color scheme predominated in the menu.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stussy, Eugene and Fred Stussy, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Nelson and D. J. Nelson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gehauer and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lopp.

Rooms and tables were decorated in the St. Patrick's motif, with silver and green sugar plum trees, candles and place cards throughout. Sixteen were present for the three-course luncheon preceding the bridge.

Prizes in contract bridge were awarded to Mrs. J. L. Kellerman and Mrs. Conrad Shook. Auction prizes went to Mrs. H. C. Oakes and Mrs. W. L. Carlson. Mrs. Herman Hilmer won first prize in anagrams and the door prize was awarded to Mrs. John Legg.

Tamale pie, gelatine salad, assorted cakes and coffee were served.

Others present were Mrs. Dorothy Moffit, Mrs. Opal Hillman, Mrs. Aubine Baumstark, Mrs. Leila Criswell, Mrs. Mildred Kreps, Mrs. Erma Grabau, Mrs. Esther Looney, Mrs. Willie Anne Allin and Mrs. Edna Mae Mennen.

CASEY'S ERB LAX

LAGUNA BEACH, March 15.—Capt. R. W. Hadden, who spoke to the Townsend club two weeks ago, will give a lecture on "Russia, Old and New" at the Woman's clubhouse March 21.

At one time Captain Hadden was consulting engineer for New York and London interests in Siberia and he was retained by the Soviet government to make a survey of the poultry industry in California. The lecture will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

JUNIOR GROUP TO CONDUCT SERVICES

NEWPORT BEACH, March 15.—The junior department of the Community Sunday school will have charge of the evening worship services of the church, according to an announcement by the pastor, the Rev. W. I. Lowe. The Rev. Mr. Lowe will give a chalk talk on the topic, "The Christian." Ed Bennett, the department superintendent, will direct.

Immediately preceding the program, the Epworth league will be addressed by Miss Viola Perry, English teacher of the Newport harbor union high school. Special music is being arranged for this meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Lowe will speak at 11 a.m. on Sunday on the subject, "A Glorious Church." The church choir, directed by Mrs. Mary Bennett, will give several musical selections. The church organist, Mrs. Veda Thompson, will preside at the organ console.

An official board meeting will be held on Tuesday evening and prayer meeting and Bible study will be held Wednesday evening. The Wednesday evening service theme will be "The Deathless and Timeless Christ."

The church foreign missionary society will meet in the home of Mrs. Gwendolyn Brown Tuesday with a pot luck luncheon at noon. A Founders' day program is being prepared by Mrs. Cora Ballou and Mrs. W. I. Lowe. Mrs. Clara McMurry, the organization chairman, will preside.

PLACENTIA P.-T. A. ARRANGES DINNER

PLACENTIA, March 15.—A Mexican dinner is to be served March 19 at the Richfield school under auspices of the Parent-Teacher association, according to announcement of Mrs. Gladys Kjolstad, principal of the school.

The funds raised will be used for P-T-A work. In addition to dinner, a program will be offered, with dances from the Oliver Ortega dancing school bringing numbers, and former students of the Richfield school bringing musical numbers.

Zoning Plans To Be Outlined For Harbor Committee

NEWPORT BEACH, March 15.—Capt. William J. Brown has called a special meeting of the harbor zoning committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of commerce for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Steps will be taken toward the outlining of a report on harbor zoning needs, he said, and the new mooring and zoning regulations will be explained by Harbormaster Thomas Bouchey.

The zoning committee, which is a sub committee of the harbor development committee of the chamber, is composed of Captain Brown, M. S. Robinson, former harbormaster, Hubbard Howe, J. B. McNally, J. P. Greeley, J. A. Beek, J. Higbee Embry, Frank S. Hutton and H. D. Parks.

Francis H. Everett, of Lynwood, presented by the program chairman, E. H. Peterkin, urged using SERA assistance in establishing supervised play in the school yards and the city park, particularly during the summer vacation period. Everett is connected with the department of child delinquency in the city of Los Angeles and spoke of his experiences in that capacity.

Dr. Glenn Curtis, president, presided at the luncheon meeting and following discussion of the matter appointed a committee to arrange for financing the Brea ball club during the coming season. It had been decided that the Lions will present an operetta and R. E. Barnes, C. O. Harvey and V. E. Jaster were named by Curtis to direct the production. A. W. Larson, Ed Brainer and W. A. Culp were appointed to look after the publicity and E. H. Peterkin to secure the house.

Lodge Visited By Rebekah Leaders

WESTMINSTER, March 15.—The district deputy president of the Rebekah lodge, Mrs. Bessie Stoval, paid her official visit to Aloha Rebekah lodge Tuesday, a large number of members being present to greet the visitor and her deputy, Mrs. Inez Baker of Sycamore Rebekah lodge and other guests from that and the Orange lodge. Gifts were presented Mrs. Stoval and Mrs. Baker.

Donald Melvin and Joe Laden presented vocal duet numbers with Miss Marylou Hare accompanying; Robert Rumbould and Carl Warner gave three piano, accordion and guitar duets. Three readings, "Twinkle Little Star," "Her Beaux," and "The Bear Story," were given by Mrs. Nevin Otis.

The dining hall was gay with St. Patrick's day decorations for the refreshment hour, the visitor's table having as a center piece a green hat with flowers and tiny green crocheted hats served as favors. Refreshments of ice cream, home-made cookies and coffee were served.

Hold Shower in Buena Park Home

BUENA PARK, March 15.—Honoring Mrs. Myrtle White, Mrs. Ray Campfield entertained members of the Balboa Island circle of the Ladies' Aid in one of a series of vanishing luncheons sponsored by the Aid. Assisting Mrs. Watkins as hostess was Mrs. A. J. Rutter.

Rooms and tables were decorated in the St. Patrick's motif, with silver and green sugar plum trees, candles and place cards throughout. Sixteen were present for the three-course luncheon preceding the bridge.

Prizes in contract bridge were awarded to Mrs. J. L. Kellerman and Mrs. Conrad Shook. Auction prizes went to Mrs. H. C. Oakes and Mrs. W. L. Carlson. Mrs. Herman Hilmer won first prize in anagrams and the door prize was awarded to Mrs. John Legg.

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, March 15.—With a steady increase of 10 per cent per year in crime in the United States for the past 30 years, it is time for the nation to do something constructive toward crime prevention, it was stated by Mrs. Irma Wann Burwala, of the Rohr-Connelly company, contractors for utility extensions, to resume its service some time ago, but no action has been taken.

A special committee will be appointed to take the matter up with the rail company, Johnson said.

QUEEN ESTHERS OF SOUTHLAND TO MEET AT MESA SATURDAY

NEWPORT BEACH, March 15.—Members of the Queen Esther society of Christ Church By the Sea will be hostesses to organizations of the Southern California conference Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. according to Mrs. Joseph A. Bodman, senior counselor of the local group. Mrs. Charles Robinson, conference secretary of young people's work, is in charge of program arrangements.

Mrs. Bodman announced that Mrs. L. F. Sedgwick, conference president of the Woman's Home Missionary society, will speak at the church next Sunday at 11 o'clock. She will be assisted by Miss Jeanette Bodman, who will give the Scripture reading. Music, arranged especially for the occasion, will be given. The services are being handled under the auspices of the local Queen Esther society under the leadership of Mrs. Bodman.

and could be safely turned out into society."

The lecture was the final one of a series of eight talks given this year, the fifth similar course at the high school. Mrs. J. R. McClure acted as program chairman for the course, serving in behalf of the Parent-Teacher organizations of Costa Mesa and Newport Beach. A vote was taken by those present to ascertain the sort of program desired for next year.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 15.—Rogers Hornsby says necessarily follow that he would be a good manager?" elucidates Mac.

Ruth was not forced out of the American league. He could have continued with the Yankees or gone to most any other club and played as often as he cared to.

"Ruth wasn't satisfied with that, however. During the world series he announced he would not sign another player's contract. He wanted Joe McCarthy's position as manager of the Yankees. If he came to Philadelphia, for example, he wanted my job. Well, it just happens that I need my job, and I have an idea McCarthy needs him."

MAY OFFSET RACING

Yawkey, owner of the Boston Americans, takes a most sensible view of Ruth's switch to the livery of the Red Sox opposition, the Braves.

"I wish Ruth all the luck in the world," asserts Yawkey. "I hope that the Babe has a tremendous season. He has the people of Boston talking baseball, which will react to the advantage of the Red Sox as well as the Braves. Boston needed someone like Ruth to offset the inroads made by racing in New England last year."

I wonder how many other owners who had invested more than $3,000,000 in a franchise in two years, and who had just spent $250,000 for a manager and shortstop, would talk that same way. I fear the majority of them would have strong words to say about an American league that permitted its most magnetic attraction to enter their city in the livery of the National league rival.

Naturally, the financial success the Braves have with Ruth entirely depends on the number of appearances the Bambino is able to make, and how well he stands the ball. The 41-year-old Ruth's batting average dropped to .288 in 1934, and there were unmistakable signs that his spindly legs and tired old eyes were failing.

An aged Ruth isn't going to keep Braves field well filled unless the club is up in the race, and nobody is going to pay to see even an old hero like the Barnie his vice president and assistant managing from the dark confines of the dugout.

"Because Ruth was a great instinctive ball player it does not

I suspect that that is why Eddie Collins didn't grab Ruth for the Red Sox, where he would have been the idol he will be with the Braves. Only a man of Tom Yawkey's millions could have kept pace with Collins' expenditures, which have failed to put the Red Sox anywhere in particular.

"I ask you: Which would have been the better deal—Ruth free gratis, and for nothing, or Joe Cronin for $250,000?"

Connie Mack, 72-year-old director of the Athletics, takes an altogether different view, and frankly asserts that, in his opinion, the owner making Ruth a manager would be taking a chance. Ruth managed the American League All-Stars, organized by Mack, who accompanied them on their tour of the Orient last winter.

McLemore Hears Distressing Report About Pro Boys

EVEN LOTT'S TIPS WORTHLESS

By HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 15.—What has become of that brave little band of adventurers who, months ago, turned their backs on New York and plunged into the hinterland with the vow they'd never return until all the loose change in that vast area west of the Mississippi was theirs?

I speak of Trapper Tilden, Leatherstocking Lott, Last-of-the-Mohicans Stoefen and Captain John Smith Vines.

Surely you remember them. I can see them now as they left Tilden with his little package of caviar and pheasant breast; Lott with his two meager tips on the fifth at Hialeah; Stoefen with his two telephone memorandum books, and Vines with his padlocked wallet.

It was slim equipment for such a trip, for their itinerary (or, as Stoefen called it, "the places we're gonna go") called for a stop in every place having a patch of ground on which the weeds were not more than two feet high, and a hardware store selling chicken wire.

For the first two weeks the party sent back dispatches regularly. Almost too regularly. Then reports became more sparse. Finally, they stopped altogether. The last report on the party, my investigation shows, came out of Medicine Hat. It was a very terse message, being the report turned in by the janitor of the Medicine Hat opera house on a Tuesday morning. It read:

"Dear Sir: Four guys in picnic pants slipped in last night when I wasn't looking and began running around the floor hitting at something that bounced. Two of the guys finally quit swinging on the bouncing thing and started swinging at one another. One was short and blond, and his shirt tail was hanging out. The other was a tall drink of water with a bald spot. About 11 o'clock the opera house phone rang and the fellow they called Les or something like that answered it. He said, 'I'll be right over, honey,' he said, 'just as soon as I put Gus and Tilden to bed.' A while they left."

"Since that night no one, so far as I can learn, has heard of the party. It was reported that Lott has been seen at the Santa Anita Handicap, but this clue was abandoned when it was learned that the man thought to be Lott had been seen cashing a winning ticket. This definitely proved it wasn't George."

My own guess as to their whereabouts is this: Vines, having in-

GUTTERO JOINS L. A. FIVE FOR TITLE TOURNEY

DENVER, Colo., March 15.—(UP) Lee Guttero, the outstanding college basketball player on the Pacific Coast this season, will compete in the National A. A. U. tournament here next week as a member of the Universal Pictures team of Hollywood. It was learned today.

The addition of the star of the University of Southern California team, Pacific Coast conference champions, to the Universals made the movie team one of the strongest contenders for the Nation title now held by the Tulsa Diamond Oilers.

"Chuck" Hyatt, several times an All-America forward while attending the University of Pittsburgh, is another star listed in the line-up of the Hollywood team entered in the first National tournament held outside of Kansas City in 10 years.

Drawings will be held today or tomorrow to determine pairings for Monday's opening round games.

Headlining the entry list with the Universals and the Diamond Oilers were other outstanding independent quintets of the country, including Denver's own Safeway-Piggly Wiggly and Denver Athletic club, the Kansas City Stage Lines and the Hutchinson Renos.

College and university teams made up the bulk of the contestants, but most of these clubs were not expected to furnish any real threat to the favored independents.

Outstanding individual favorites were the Denver Pigs, beaten only once this season, and victorious over most of the good amateur teams of the nation.

A few weeks ago there was seriously talk of moving Santa Ana and Fullerton out of their leagues and into a new circuit composed of the bigger schools in the now large and unwieldy Orange County league. This met with small enthusiasm. Apparently the only ones favorable were those in the county conference who wanted to shake themselves of the big fellows.

Spokesmen for Santa Ana stated covertly they preferred the current role of the little-frog-in-big puddle to one reversed. Fullerton intimated satisfaction with the Foot-hill circuit. Anaheim, Orange, Newport Harbor and Huntington Beach say no rhyme or reason in renewing a situation from which it fared a decade ago.

Playing brilliantly, the rookies pushed over two tallies on three blows in the opener and added three more in the third when "Lefty" Curtis hoisted one over the fence to score two ahead. Two hits produced the other rookie score in the fourth.

Myatt, rookie shortstop, led the parade by hammering out three singles out of four trips to the rubber for the best offensive performances, while Ray Jacobs and DeSautes both connected for two out of three.

With Weeks pitching airtight baseball, the Yankees (or rookies) held the Hollywood regulars (in Cuak uniforms) scoreless for five frames, only to open up on Wally Hebert to come from behind to win the exhibition.

By Paul Mallon

COMMENT
President Roosevelt has quietly abandoned his pose of not commenting on legislation pending in congress. His message on the holding company bill was as strong as any congress ever has received. There will be more later on the Wagner labor bill and perhaps on NRA and the bank bill.

This is further evidence that the President is beginning to take hold.

GUIDANCE
The touch of white protruding from Senator Pat Harrison's coat sleeve is not his cuff, but a skeleton draft of the administration's NRA reorganization bill.

You may recall that the New Dealers have more or less seriously maintained the illusion that they would not offer a new NRA bill. They may continue to maintain it for diplomatic reasons, but the Harrison draft already has been in circulation privately among senators and labor leaders.

It was prepared under direction of Co-ordinator Richberg by Blackwell Smith, the big inside man at NRA. Those who saw it a few days ago noticed it contained only one important change from the existing NRA set-up. That change would make explicit the President's right to impose the code.

RESISTANCE

There is another NRA bill in private circulation. It is a hot one, prepared by leftish New Dealers. They submitted it to the A. F. of L. crowd the other day, and thought they obtained a promise of labor to come out in favor of it later.

This bill would shorten hours and increase pay, adopting the thirty-hour week basically, but allowing broad exemptions. Also it would adopt a strict majority rule on Section 7-A, give labor equal representation on the code authority and continue the present five-man administration board.

The hottest feature is a provision authorizing the President to appoint public trustees to take over and operate any business not joining NRA. This would mean that the government would, for instance, seize the Ford plant and operate it.

This bill does not have the approval of the White House, but the scheme behind it is to stir up the progressives in the senate and have them gang the administration.

OUTCOME

These two bills do not tell what is going to happen to NRA in the end. They merely represent the two conflicting viewpoints around which the congressional bill is being organized.

The most significant indication of how the fight may work out lies in the fact that Mr. Roosevelt is beginning to take hold of it. He will drift until recently. He will have to make some compromise with the labor viewpoint, but he stands a good chance of preserving the general NRA framework. There have been hints lately that he may buy labor off by championing the Wagner bill.

DIETS

The fanciest of all inner governmental disputes now is the one about Mrs. Roosevelt's diet. It seems that Agriculture Secretary Wallace's bureau of home economics has devised four model diets. Mrs. Roosevelt's served a sample at the White House months ago, and the war started when grain interests found it recommended consumption of 200 pounds of grain a year, whereas Americans now are consuming an average of 240 pounds. The grain boys have been pulling Wallace's tail ever since.

Recently the meat packers discovered that two of the lower cost cuts recommend consumption of more grain and less meat, and they have joined the melee. This does not hurt the grain fight because the two higher cost diets recommend more meat, less grain. Both factions have managed to keep excessively steamed up about the ridiculousness of an agricultural department urging less consumption of grain or meat, or both.

A simple solution might be for Wallace to tell people how they can consume lots of both grain and meat on their present incomes.

RETREAT

Mr. Ickes eased out of the Moses bather as gracefully as a hog ripping lightly out of a mud puddle. He slipped so often that even he had to laugh.

There may be something deeper behind the sloppy retreat, but the facts seem to indicate that Mr. Ickes (acting wholly for Mr. Roosevelt) merely got tired and trying to force the New York park commissioner out of his job.

Mr. Ickes keeps such a terrorizing hand over his employees that all are afraid to talk. This is the reason why he was able to keep his retreat quiet for more than two weeks after it occurred. No better example of news suppression has occurred under the New Deal.

APPETITE

There is no question that Mayor La Guardia of New York is playing ball fully with the New Dealers in nearly anything they want to do. But the latest one he has tried to put over on them here is little too much.

Mr. La Guardia's brain trust, A. Berle Jr. is supposed to have originated a scheme to create a municipal corporation with federal money and lend money through it to delinquent taxpayers, enabling them to pay their city taxes. It has been put before the RFC several times and rejected. Recently

La Guardia. He has not heard the RFC answer yet, but it will again be "No".

The reasons are two: (A) Fear that cities would abuse the privilege by borrowing too much, and (B) fear that Uncle Sam never could collect.

NEW YORK
By James McMullan

DESERTER

Pacific Gas and Electric's $45,000 refunding bond issue fits two separate curves of the Washington Jig-saw. One is the added impetus given to Joe Kennedy's drive to step up corporate financing as rapidly as possible.

The other is the indication that Pacific Gas—like the bitter-end elements in the industry—is trying to cooperate with the government's utility policy. The announcement that the interest saving of $400,000 on the new issue will be applied to rate reductions is significant. You hear charges that the company is aiming to become teacher's pet. Despite the tide running against the holding company bill shrewd New Yorkers observe that this may not be a bad thing to be.

A number of other utilities with callable bonds follow Pacific Gas' example to advantage—but darned few of them will for the present.

Why? Because—although they believe the holding company bill is licked—they still figure the wisest technique is to keep on yelling murder until it's disposed of. Otherwise aroused security holders might lose interest and a Congressional reaction set in.

A bond issue offered to the public at lower interest doesn't fit this technique at all. It implies confidence that everything is going to be all right—on the part of purchasers as well as the issuing company. Extremists privately and bitterly remark that Pacific Gas has deserted the cause and broken the united front. The informed are confident that Joe Kennedy had more to do with this than he's telling.

COMPROMISE

The power people have certainly done a thorough job of mobilizing objections to the Wheeler-Rayburn bill. Wall Street gets a chuckle from the protests of several Public Service Commissions—including those of Connecticut and Georgia—on the ground that the pending legislation infringes on states' rights. Insiders understand that the most effective protestants—though they have not appeared in that capacity publicly—are the life insurance companies. They don't agree at all with the Federal Trade Commission that the gradual extirpation of holding companies wouldn't hurt them.

Ironically there's one class of security holders who would like to see the holding company death sentence carried out. They are the people who sold small operating properties to the big groups and were paid in stock. The stock isn't worth much now—but the properties might be if they could get them back. But there are too few of them to make a dent politically and their chances are slim.

While the Wheeler-Rayburn bill as written is dead New York scouts report enough anti-utility sentiment still alive in Washington to make some legislation probable. The best-informed sources believe it will shape toward the compromise which would convert the holding companies into investment trusts. If this goes through they will continue to exist and receive dividends from their operating properties but will be practically stripped of management rights. Moderates among utility leaders are not at all averse to this solution.

CHAOS

General Batists—not President Mendoza—is the real power behind the existing Cuban government.

New York sharpars say he can keep the whip hand as long as his army obeys orders. The test will come when the soldiers are ordered to fire into a mob. Killing of friends and relatives is likely to breed disaffection. And if a single regiment lays down its arms or deserts to the rebels it will be like touching a match to a celluloid collar.

Insiders understand that ex-president Grau San Martin has more to do with the current disturbance than is generally known.

New York investors in Cuban properties see a complete and final washout ahead—especially in the utility field. Sugar investments may be an exception. Confiscation of sugar properties might close the American market to Cuban sugar—and even the bitterest leaders of anti-Yankee sentiment realize that would be suicide.

Informed circles predict chaos in Cuba for months to come—ending in domination by left-wing extremists and devastating losses to foreign capital.

WAGES

Insiders say that nobody but Uncle Sam has paid prevailing wages in the construction field for the past four years. They add that there would have been no private construction at all if the theoretical wage scale had been enforced.

The Federation of Labor—for all its bold words on the subject—has privately acquiesced in this chiseling. It had no choice if it wanted to keep its membership in the building trades alive. Carpenters and bricklayers have much preferred to accept pay below the union scale rather than hold fast and starve.

APPETITE

There is no question that Mayor La Guardia of New York is playing ball fully with the New Dealers in nearly anything they want to do. But the latest one he has tried to put over on them here is little too much.

SIX CANDIDATES FILE NOMINATIONS

Six additional candidates were on record officially today for the April 8 election, following the filing of their nomination papers yesterday and today in City Clerk Ed Vegely's office.

City council candidates who filed were A. F. LeGaye, representing the first ward, and Plummer Bruns, incumbent, and Steele Flynn, from the fifth ward.

F. D. Drake, 1659 West Sixth street, filed for city treasurer. He is the second to file for this post, C. E. Treat, 122 East Chestnut street, who filed today for the post of city clerk, is the third to seek that post.

Charles D. Hayes posted his fee to run for the board of education and is the fifth to make the race, the previous four all being incumbents.

J. E. Hoblit, 327 Halesworth avenue, the second possibility for city clerk, took out his papers yesterday.

$1500 BAIL SET ON THEFT SUSPECT

Arraigned on grand theft charges in the Laguna Beach court today, Nelson D. Boyer, Jr., 19, had his preliminary hearing set for Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. and had bail fixed at $1500. The defendant was returned to Orange county yesterday after being arrested in San Luis Obispo.

Boyer is alleged to have beaten his wife, known in Laguna Beach dramatic circles as Dorothy Doene, with a rock on Tuesday night and then fled in a car owned by Mrs. Frank Doane, his mother-in-law. Mrs. Boyer was not seriously hurt.

Deputy Sheriff James Workman and Officer H. D. Allanson of Laguna returned yesterday afternoon with Boyer and told an interesting story of how the man was arrested. A teletype from here had warned police to watch for a blue coupe. Near Santa Maria, Boyer picked up a hitchhiker and later left him on a ruse and stole his suitcase and coat.

The transient notified Santa Maria police and a second description of the same car was flashed to San Luis Obispo. A deputy sheriff there watched the highway and stopped Boyer at the point of a gun when he arrived.

TOWNSEND CLUBS TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Supporters and members of the Townsend Old Age Pension clubs of Orange county will gather for a mass meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church at Sixth and Sprague streets.

Francis Cuttle, national advisory board chairman, lately returned from Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker and Robert E. Clements, national secretary and a co-worker of the organization, will speak. Both are expected to give latest news from the national capital on pension legislation.

Critics for the evening were E. M. Sundquist, Roy Coleman, Ferris Scott, Harold Yost, Dr. Watson and Fred McCandless was general critic of the evening.

Fred Eley, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

BOX OF MATCHES SETS HOUSE AFIRE

Fire which started in a peculiar way from a box of matches, was extinguished last night in the home of James P. Cole on Baker road south of Greenville, before any serious damage was caused.

Cole slammed the door as he left the house and believed that a box of matches on a shelf was knocked to the floor. A few moments later, he noticed a reddish glow in the house and ran inside to find a hole burned through the floor where the matches had fallen, and the wall ablaze. He put the fire out with water but could not have saved anything if the blaze had been allowed to burn a few more minutes, he stated.

WAKE ISLAND BILL SENT TO CONGRESS

Authorization of the appointment of four sub-committees to assist in the work connected with the experimental sewage disposal plant in Santa Ana featured a regular monthly meeting of the Orange County Sewage Reclamation Project committee last night.

Committees authorized were technical, contact and legal, financial and publicity. The work of the project will be carried largely from now on by these sub-committees.

Chairmen will be announced in a few days, according to O. E. Stewart, Anaheim chairman of the project.

Woman Injured In Bridge Accident Said Recovering

Title II—amending the Federal Reserve System—will be conveniently forgotten in the shuffle. If it works this way smiles for bankers will be back in fashion.

SENSITIVE

Wall Street used to jump like a nervous kitten at every faint breeze from Washington—but no more. Comment runs that nobody short of the President of the Supreme Court can draw any response now—and they're only good for half a day. A disgruntled broker complains that the markets are about as sensitive as a stevedore under ether.

SHARED

New Yorkers are intrigued to note that Huey Long evidently believes in sharing expense as well as wealth. They observe that his best brand of propaganda goes out over his Congressional frank—and they wonder what Jim Farley thinks of that.

SIDELIGHTS

A Stock Exchange seat was recently sold for a net loss of almost $400,000 from the purchase price. . . . New York sharpars can't figure Congress going home before mid-June at the earliest. . . . Bad news from their viewpoint, . . . $500,000,000 private refinancing is in sight now that Swift and Pacific Gas have set the pace.

HIGH LEGION OFFICIALS AT S. A. POST MEET

20 CHILDREN HURT IN BUS ACCIDENT

LOS ALTOS, Cal., March 15.—Twenty grammar school children were injured, two seriously, today when a Los Altos school bus was wrecked in a three car crash with a truck and an automobile.

The accident occurred at San Antonio road and Pine Lane, near Los Altos.

Forty school children were aboard the bus, which was rolled over onto its side. Many children were cut by breaking glass.

State Highway Patrolman Ray Berry said the bus, driven by George A. Fullridge, was struck by a Blase Brothers Produce truck driven by Joseph Remelro, after the truck had been struck by a sedan driven by Otis Davis, Mountain View.

Berry said the sedan cut into the road and became interlocked with the truck.

FARLEY PUTS GIFT STAMPS ON MARKET

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(UP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley laughed $1,000,000 worth of the nation's stamp collectors today as they paid hard cash for his most embarrassing blunder.

More than 3000 philatelists swarmed through the vast post office building seeking to buy copies of the famous gift stamps, duplicating those the P. M. G. handed President Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt, Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, his own children, and friends should take a more active part in community life and shoulder the responsibility of citizenship.

It is easy to be patriotic when prosperity is here but it is different when times are harder," the speaker said. "Parents should take more interest in their schools, should vote regularly and become acquainted with national and local affairs. The country needs leadership which can best be developed in local groups."

Legion Commander Bert Caselli had charge of the program, which was opened with a salute to the colors and a short exhibition by the American Legion drum and bugle corps. A feature of the music was the guest conducting for one number by Dick Welch of Riverside, candidate for department commander.

After the formal program, refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed until a late hour.

TALK ON OIL IS 1ST PLACE WINNER

Robert S. Farrar's speech on "Oil" was voted first honors by members of the El Camino chapter of the Toastmasters' club at the regular meeting last night at James' cafe.

W. L. Lollivett's talk on "The Teaching Profession" was awarded second place. A. H. Allen, who was toastmaster of the evening, arranged a humorous program by assigning craft talks to speakers who were unfamiliar with the profession on which they were asked to talk.

Carlyle Dennis spoke on "The Telephone," Jack Kellerman talked on "The Telephone." Ernest Layton discussed "Dentistry" and Ted Blanding's topic was "Insurance."

Critics for the evening were E. M. Sundquist, Roy Coleman, Ferris Scott, Harold Yost, Dr. Watson and Fred McCandless was general critic of the evening.

Seats will be reserved until 7:45 p. m. for members coming from outside Santa Ana, it was learned from the supervising committee.

NAME COMMITTEES FOR SEWAGE PLANT

Authorization of the appointment of four sub-committees to assist in the work connected with the experimental sewage disposal plant in Santa Ana featured a regular monthly meeting of the Orange County Sewage Reclamation Project committee last night.

Committees authorized were technical, contact and legal, financial and publicity. The work of the project will be carried largely from now on by these sub-committees.

Chairmen will be announced in a few days, according to O. E. Stewart, Anaheim chairman of the project.

Market Displays 40-Pound Sunfish

Cought with a hook and line off Newport Beach yesterday a giant sunfish, weighing 40 pounds, is on display at the Jeanes Fish Market which merchandising experience has resulted in the establishment of two other drug stores which have enjoyed continuous popularity, it was announced.

DRUG STORE OPENING IN GRAND CENTRAL

Kustner operates cut-rate drug stores in Wilmington and San Pedro, in addition to his new store in the Grand Central Market here, and will offer thrifty shoppers of Santa Ana and Orange county the same bargains which have made for success in the other two stores.

The store guarantees to meet any prices anywhere in Orange county, Kustner said. Through a cooperative purchasing association, the store is able to buy at prices which result in a considerable saving for patrons, the announcement said.

Only nationally advertised and widely known goods are carried in the new drug store. It was announced at prices which it was said will prove a revelation to shoppers.

A feature of the service offered at Kustner's is a self-service plan which enables the shopper to select his goods with the least possible trouble and with full knowledge of the prices. Attractively arranged on counters and shelves, the goods are plainly marked and easily accessible.

Kustner invited residents of Santa Ana and Orange county to pay a visit to the new store during the opening tomorrow.

GIFT OFFER MADE BY CLEANSER FIRM

An attractive introductory offer was made on page 26 of The Register today by manufacturers of Powow, described as a new type of household cleanser which contains no grit or abrasives, yet is even more effective than scratchy preparations because it cleans by "emulsification."

Fine fluffy granules form a thick creamy lather that absorbs dirt, grease and stubborn stains like a blotter without injuring the most sensitive wares or affecting the most delicate hands, the announcement said.

It also was claimed that Powow cleans, polishes, sterilizes and deodorizes simultaneously, removing even the most stubborn stains such as water marks on porcelain bath tubs, and is just as effective with cold or hot water. The manufacturers recommended the cleanser for all household cleaning, including the scouring of pots, pans, sinks, polishing aluminum ware, brightening linoleum, restoring brilliance to painted woodwork, shining glass ware, cleaning and deodorizing electric refrigerators, polishing silverware and similar uses.

JOHN BUSCH OPENS NEW BARBER SHOP

John Busch, well known Santa Ana barber, will open his own shop at 309 North Sycamore street tomorrow, it was announced today.

Busch's Barber shop will have all new equipment of the most modern and sanitary type, it was announced, and there will be two chairs to serve patrons.

Busch has been a barber in this city for the past six years. He was with Al Hall for several years and has been with Joe Steele for the last year and a half.

Court Notes

John J. McCann, pleading guilty to a drunkenness charge, has been committed to the county hospital for medical treatment by Police Judge J. G. Mitchell.

John G. Buchanan of Redlands has paid an $8 speeding fine in police court.

Thomas McCune and Donald McKay, pleading guilty to intoxication charges, have promised to work out their fines to Police Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Jesus Reyes, charged with non-support of a minor child, was found guilty in the Santa Ana justice court yesterday and had pronouncement of judgment set for Saturday at 9 a.m.

Jack Nicholson was sentenced to spend one year in the county jail by Judge Kenneth Morrison yesterday on a charge of non-support of a minor child. The term was suspended for two years, on provision that he paid $15 per month.

Pleading guilty to drunkenness charges in police court yesterday, David Wilson paid $5 of a $15 fine. James H. Loftus was given a 10-day suspended jail term and Paul Halter promised to work out a $15 fine.

L. W. Cravill paid a $6 fine and Stephen Ozmont paid a $5 fine on speeding charges in the Santa Ana police court yesterday.

Charged with disturbing the peace, Tony Castrillo paid $8 of a $25 fine to Police Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday.

ONLY REMAINING BIRDS OF PARAKEET SPECIES OWNED BY RESIDENT OF ORANGE

If a birdie with a yellow bill should hop upon your window sill one of these balmy spring mornings, it would constitute merely a pleasant beginning for a sunny spring day, but on the other hand if the birdie should happen to have a bright blue, an emerald green or a vivid orange bill, it's ten to one, there would be a bit of eye rubbing at that particular window.

Another almost sure fire bet would be that the brilliant-billed birdie would be one of the rare feathered folk owned by Dr. Leon Patrick, East Chapman avenue, Orange, taking a morning constitutional.

Conservation now being observed is of special interest to Dr. Patrick, who is an agriculturist of international fame. He is recognized as an authority on breeding rare species the world over and to his care has been entrusted the sole remaining birds with the task of saving from extinction the Norfolk parakeet, the rest of whose number have joined the ghostly ranks of the great auk and the passenger pigeon. This particular parakeet was destroyed by hordes of rats from ships touching at the shores of the island, the rodents destroying eggs and young birds in their nests built in hollow logs on the ground.

The Norfolk parakeets were sent to Dr. Patrick by the Marquis of Tavistock, Havant, Hants, England, one of the outstanding ornithologists in Europe, who shipped from their far away home, two cocks and a hen. There are now two pairs in the sunny back yard of the Patrick home. They build their nests in hollow logs and as far as is possible natural living conditions and feed is exactly duplicated.

Another rare bird in the aviary, is the Derbyan parakeet. Dr. Patrick having the distinction of having raised the only young birds from this species in captivity. For this signal achievement he was honored by the Societe Nationale d'Acclimation de France.

The Derbyan parakeet is a native of Tibet where for centuries birds of this species have reared their young in the great shadows of the mighty Himalayas, refusing to consider raising a family in captivity until lulled to a sense of security of the understanding of their needs by Dr. Patrick.

One of the most interesting birds in the aviary is the scarlet and blue macaw, from Central America, the bird is very tame and flies about the yard with a wing spread of four feet, perching on the swaying branches of a palm and returning to his home, where he is protected and contented, at a whistle from Dr. Patrick. The scarlet and blue of his plumage is augmented by the orange and yellow of his shoulder feathers. He can crack a brazil nut with his strong red beak as easily as the parakeets crush a peanut shell.

Other varieties of parakeet in the aviary include the pieded parakeet from Western Australia, the yellow rumped from New South Wales, the Bourke grass parakeet from South Australia,

BLOOMS COMING ON IN CHERRY REGION

Predicting that the last two weeks in March will be the best time to view the profusion of blooms in Cherry Valley and San Gorgonio Pass, Bogart Bowl officials have issued an invitation to Southern Californians to drive to the cherry orchards.

Because of storms and cold weather, the blooms have been held back and there will be few trees in bloom this week end, it was learned. The annual Japanese cherry blossom festival will not be held this year but plans are being made for its resumption next year.

News of the spring blooms and the best time to go to the Beaumont and Cherry Valley orchards will be carried in this paper and over the radio.

R. A. McPhee, advertising manager of the Smart and Final Co., Ltd., of Santa Ana, has received a letter from Gordon Cook, editor of the Voluntary and Cooperative Groups magazine, in which the editor praised a newspaper advertisement by McPhee as being one of the best Cook has ever seen, it was learned today.

The editor said he has made a note to reproduce the advertisement in the April issue of the magazine, which is a monthly trade journal for executives and buyers of voluntary, cooperative and retailer-owned wholesale groups and for their large volume retail members.

"For years," the letter from Cook said, "we have been saying that the time has come when the volunteers must build up their institutional standing; that they must educate the public to understand what the thing is all about rather than to depend 100 per cent on price appeal. When you are depending entirely on price appeal, you are not building up a single thing that can't be taken away from you by the next fellow who has a little better price, but when you sell your organization to Mrs. Consumer, you will find frequently that, within reason, price is secondary."

WINNER OF BIG
SWEEPS PRIZE
FACES SUIT

Easy come; easy go.

Mrs. E. M. Atherton, formerly of Buena Park, won $50,000 in the Irish "sweep" last October 31, being one of four Americans who held a ticket on Highlander, the horse who ran third in the Cambridgeshire Handicap, at Newmarket, England.

She received the $50,000 just after Christmas.

First, the United States government took a fourth of it, $12,500, as taxes.

However, there was plenty left to finance the purchase of a large, new car of expensive make, and the Athertons moved to more exclusive surroundings, taking up their residence at Westwood Village. That reduced the $50,000 further.

Now comes a suit for another $824, filed yesterday in superior court against the Atherton bank-roll, based upon an old judgment court judgment that never had been satisfied, it is alleged. Mrs. Atherton and her husband, J. W. Atherton, were sued jointly. Their big, new car was attached yesterday by the sheriff of Los Angeles county, in connection with the suit.

The present suit is based upon a judgment for $5089.59 won against the Athertons in 1926 by the J. R. Walter Company, Anaheim automobile firm. The judgment was revived October 27, 1933, and with accrued interest and costs, now amounts to $824, it is alleged. The plaintiff claims it has never been paid.

The Athertons are visiting back. Their motion to quash the execution under which their big automobile was attached, and to set aside the revival of judgment obtained in 1933, was scheduled to be heard late today by Superior Judge G. K. Scovell.

It was understood that the revival of judgment in 1933 would be attacked upon the ground that it was then outlawed the original judgment having been obtained seven years earlier. Judgments, it is said, are outlawed in five years and 60 days, and cannot be revived after that time unless good cause is shown.

So whether the Atherton windfall will go the way of other easy winnings remains to be determined.

Mrs. Atherton had purchased her ticket in the Irish sweep "as a lark," while visiting her sister in San Francisco last summer. Her sister even had advanced her the money to pay for the ticket.

She not only won the $50,000, but had the horse, Highlander, been one step farther along the track at the finish, she would have won $75,000. Highlander lost by the length of his head to Commander, in second place.

The editor said he has made a note to reproduce the advertisement in the April issue of the magazine, which is a monthly trade journal for executives and buyers of voluntary, cooperative and retailer-owned wholesale groups and for their large volume retail members.

"For years," the letter from Cook said, "we have been saying that the time has come when the volunteers must build up their institutional standing; that they must educate the public to understand what the thing is all about rather than to depend 100 per cent on price appeal. When you are depending entirely on price appeal, you are not building up a single thing that can't be taken away from you by the next fellow who has a little better price, but when you sell your organization to Mrs. Consumer, you will find frequently that, within reason, price is secondary."

A series of flights of this nature will be conducted to create greater interest in aviation, it was announced.

COMMITTEES NAMED HERE
BY KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS
FOR CATHOLIC ACTION

Charles W. Wolford, grand knight of the Knights of Columbus in Santa Ana, today announced appointment of committees and completion of details for the mobilization of Catholic action in Santa Ana as part of an international drive by the K. of C. organization.

The "kickoff" meeting will be held at 5 p. m. Sunday, in the K. of C. hall with Wolford and other officials present to explain the purpose and details of the campaign. The main purpose of the endeavor is to combat the threat of Communism confronting the nations of the world today and to increase the membership of the fraternal group, it was announced.

Committees named by Wolford are as follows:

General committee—Clyde Ashen, chairman, James P. Murphy, Carl J. Klatt, Chester Dietler, William Carroll and Charles Reagan; publicity director, Charles W. Wolford; Division 1—Captain, Antonie Borchard, committee, John Maring, Gustave Callens, Vincent Borchard, E. Hagerman, P. Haiman.

Division 2—Captain, H. J. Huelamp, committee, Paul Halliey, Riley Huber, James Alton, Tony Barrios, Bert Hoffman.

Division 3—Captain, Ray Whitman, committee, Scott Cunningham, Martin Marzoll, Dan Jerry, Ray Wilkins, Murray Logue, H. Heaney.

Division 4—Captain, Fred Dierker, committee, Lawrence Haupert, Henry Stanley, Ed Klatt, Jerry McCaffrey, Henry Turnbaugh, D. V. C. Croal, N. D. Meyer, Henry Cochems, R. J. Maddock.

Division 5—Captain, William Maaz, committee, Francis Layton, Ed Heffner, Geo. Ravenkamp, Joe Haupert, Carl Schlicher, Joe Caliens, Leo Borchard, E. R. Urbine.

Division 6—Captain, Walter Marke, committee, James Norton, Robert Naylor, Carl Helm, Francis Turnbaugh, E. J. Vosskuhler.

Division 7—Captain, Fred Pimental, committee, Dr. V. A. Rosgart, assistant captain, H. A. Shugart, John Maag, Orange—E. E. Murphy, assistant captain, James Curran, Walter Gisler, Tom Gisler, Huntington Beach, Ray Burns, Westminster, Peter Bushman; Laguna Beach—Peter Layton, A. L. Witten, Tustin.

Coach Foote said, "but we are in a bad way here for facilities for recreation. The Santa Ana Bowl is about half the size it should be, and a major league baseball team could be located here for spring training if it was large enough for a ball diamond. The Bowl would be an ideal place in which to stage a year-around recreational program for not only children, but for adults as well. Playground facilities here are inadequate."

Coach Foote expressed the hope that the board of education this year will permit the high school to play its football games in the Bowl at night. The board refused to do this last year because of the belief that it would be harmful to the students. He said that next year the high school football team probably will be superior to last year's team.

Other guests of the club included Coach Bill Cook of the junior college, Reece Green, high school basketball and track coach, and Bill Coie, Tustin high school coach. Coach Cook spoke briefly, declaring that Bill Hawkins, high school athlete, and Rudy Holman and Lucian Wilson of the junior college may have an opportunity to participate in Olympic track events in Germany. Green, in a short talk, called attention to the large percentage of track stars which are turned out in California and Orange county.

Verne Harrison, new club pianist, was introduced and played a piano solo. President Ed Hall presided.

Traveling in three ship formation, planes will be piloted by Leo Schlueter, Bill Donner and Milton Sharansky, leaving Mines Field, Inglewood, to arrive here at noon.

A series of flights of this nature will be conducted to create greater interest in aviation, it was announced.

County Art Supervisor Addresses Junior Ebell Section

Mrs. Robert S. Wade and Mrs. P. B. Gillespie joined Wednesday in receiving members of Junior Ebell Child Study section at an interesting session held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wade, 2426 Heliotrope Drive.

Entertainment and much valuable information were derived from the evening's study theme, "Creative Expression Through Art," presented by Mrs. Bradina K. Perry, supervisor of art in Orange county schools. Mrs. Perry was introduced by the section leader, Mrs. R. C. Harris, who also conducted the business session. Plans were made for the April meeting in the R. Carson Smith home, with Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Milo K. Tedstrom and Mrs. Roscoe Conklin as the hostess group. Decision was reached to make the May session a social one, and plans will be formulated at the next meeting.

During the social interval following program and business, Mrs. Wade and Mrs. Gillespie served a dessert course of ices, cake and coffee. Their guests were Mesdames Leo West, Cassius Paul, R. C. Harris, James Elson, George Hayden, Thomas B. Ruhm, Chester Horton, Kenneth Donner, Roscoe Conklin, Harold Neomaw, Milo Tedstrom, R. Carson Smith, Raymond H. Smith, J. T. White, Edward Lee Russell, Aubrey Gilness, John Norton, and the guest speaker, Mrs. Perry.

Calumet Auxiliary

Sewing Circle

Calumet Auxiliary Sewing circle held an all day meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Effie Hawley, 517 Cypress avenue. Mesdames Lulu B. Chatlain and Jane Winter were on the hostess committee with Mrs. Hawley.

Sweet peas and pansies were used in decorating for the event. Covered-dish luncheon at noon was followed by an afternoon of sewing and card games.

Guests of the circle were Gertrude L. Jackson, Ethel R. Bippus, Charles W. Winter, Charles Chatlain, H. E. Moberly, Albert Dresser and Col. E. A. Lewis.

Members present, in addition to the committee in charge, were Mesdames Lillian M. Hubbard, Myrtle Waffle, Elva M. Hunt, Julie A. Williams, Bess Moberly, Alice Gay, Marie Lindquist, Elvira Kurtz, Elizabeth Erickson, Estelle Dresser, Edna L. Hannah, Maude M. Brown, Luela Randal, Hazel Hall, Bertha E. Helm, Bertha N. Dixon, Celia Cook, Ruth Hess and Clio Showalter.

Open House Event

More than 300 members and guests took part in a monthly open house event staged Tuesday night when Calumet camp and auxiliary U. S. W. V. were hosts in Knights of Columbus hall. Music was provided by the S. E. R. A. band.

This was an old-time party, with prizes for appropriate costumes going to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Helm, Mrs. Clio Showalter and William Hannan, who won the prize walz.

Square dances were enjoyed, and punch was served throughout the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reagan were in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Dinner Event

Preceding the address in the clubhouse lounge, was a dinner staged in the dining room for a large number of association members, their husbands and guests. Mrs. Horace Scott, president of the branch, conducted a short business meeting during which Miss Mabel McFadden was named chairman of a nominating committee composed of Mrs. DeWitt Dudley, Miss Evelyn Metzgar, Miss Lillian Dickson and Mrs. Ray Atkinson.

Tables were striking with their brass bowls of flaming japonica blossoms and candles in the same vivid hue. Flags of various nations were favors at the places.

Dinner Program

Planned under direction of Mrs. Edith Thatcher, program chairman, the entertainment included a quaint Japanese folk song, "Moon Dance" by Lillian Yoshimi, wearing native costume; a group of lyrics by Chinese poets of 500 B.C. to 900 A.D. presented by Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, and two Russian numbers, "Song of the Volga Boatmen" and "Lullaby" by St. Peter Lutheran Lenten retreat; church auditorium; 7:30 p.m.

AUTHORITATIVE SPEAKER APPEARS BEFORE A. A. U. W.

That the ignorance prevailing among Chinese peasants regarding national and economic affairs, is definitely against the possibility of China's taking prominent place in the present economic world, was brought out in illuminating manner last night when Dr. Claude Buss was presented as guest speaker at the International Relations banquet in Ebell clubhouse, of Orange County branch, American Association of University women. Dr. Buss, of Los Angeles University, president of International Relations and of the U. S. C. faculty, was well qualified to speak upon the subject of "Conflict of Policy in the Far East." His keen analysis of the situation and the attitudes of the various world powers gave unusual value to the program. The readiness with which he answered many questions at the close of his address, and the authority with which he spoke, added to the interest of the occasion.

Chinese Situation

Discussing China, he declared that the peasants are ignorant of what is taking place in the world, being engaged only in tilling the soil and securing necessary food. They are not educated to responsibilities, he declared, and share in the prevailing national policy, that of keeping what they have and getting more. There is a strong desire for national equality however, and ridding China of foreign interference which brings conflict of policy with other nations, with trade as the greatest material stake.

Discussing the situation with Japan, the speaker declared that Manchukuo is the best immediate market for Japan's industrial system but is not an end in itself. The Japanese world in Manchukuo is in danger of coming to an end he believes because of the undermining of Japanese control. He cited the Chinese Eastern railway as a concrete embodiment of Russian access to the Pacific and to ice-free design in the Far East, with its ports. Its place in the Russo-Japan situation is not indicative of Russia's retreat he declared, but perhaps of a mere temporary withdrawal, or in the remote possibility of another Russo-Japanese war, something over which to fight. Russia's internal conditions are against such a war at present he contended.

Individual Nations

British possessions in Hongkong and central China bring England and Japan into conflict as does Great Britain's need for trade in cotton textile industry and shopping interests. Thus, Dr. Buss declared, the fundamental conflict is between those two nations rather than between Japan and the United States.

France's interests in Indo-China, and Italy's activities, including the repayment of Boxer funds with bombers and the maintenance of an aviation school, were brought out in graphic manner, illustrating the premise that each nation expressed the same policy of keeping its possessions and striving for more. That the League of Nations might point to way to economic co-operation and create diplomatic policies to prevent war, was his final conclusion.

Dinner Event

Preceding the address in the clubhouse lounge, was a dinner staged in the dining room for a large number of association members, their husbands and guests. Mrs. Horace Scott, president of the branch, conducted a short business meeting during which Miss Mabel McFadden was named chairman of a nominating committee composed of Mrs. DeWitt Dudley, Miss Evelyn Metzgar, Miss Lillian Dickson and Mrs. Ray Atkinson.

Delegates elected were Mesdames Olive Willard, Jessie Overton, Beren Baker, Geraldine Beall, Gladys Ward, Edith Troxel, Clara McCord; alternates, Mesdames Jessie Hosgland, Thelma Willingham, Florence Dunn, Orpha Wade, Ella Smith, Kate Rinsched, Florence Perry.

Mrs. Luella Hill, president, conducted the meeting.

It was announced that Past Presidents' Association of Southern California will hold a luncheon meeting March 28 at Orange.

Daughters of Veterans

Naming delegates to the department convention to be held May 5 to May 10 at Modesto, members of Sarah A. Rounds tent Daughters of Union Veterans met Tuesday afternoon in Knights of Pythias hall.

Delegates elected were Mesdames Olive Willard, Jessie Overton, Beren Baker, Geraldine Beall, Gladys Ward, Edith Troxel, Clara McCord; alternates, Mesdames Jessie Hosgland, Thelma Willingham, Florence Dunn, Orpha Wade, Ella Smith, Kate Rinsched, Florence Perry.

Board Members Extend Farewell Compliment To Mrs. Wallace

Mrs. Dean Wallace, who is to leave soon to make her home in Whittier, was accorded special honors this week at a luncheon meeting of Spurgeon F. T. A. executive board held in the home of Mrs. R. E. Steinberger, 820 South Ross street.

As finance chairman and historian of the association, Mrs. Wallace has been an active member of the board. Her associates on the cabinet joined in presenting her with a farewell gift.

White daisies and yellow jonquils centered the table where covered-dish luncheon was served at noon.

Annual reports were given during a business meeting. Mesdames Rufus Bond and Forrest Menzie were named to represent the board on the nominating committee.

Present were Mrs. James Givens, president, and Mesdames Dean Wallace, R. E. Steinberger, James Requar, J. C. Francis, J. W. McCain, Frank Corey, Virgil Clem, Forrest Menzie, Harold Wahlberg, R. D. Flaherty, Rufus Bond.

Two Sections of Club Hold Meetings This Week

This week brought two section meetings for Santa Ana Woman's club, the latest of which was shared by Arts and Crafts members, and an earlier event by the Philanthropy group.

Mrs. W. M. Wells received the Arts and Crafts section Wednesday afternoon in her home, 324 East Seventeenth street. Members spent the time working on a variety of articles, including fancy glasses, score and tally cards and knitted garments. The hostess observed a St. Patrick's theme in serving refreshments of tea and cake.

Her guests included Mesdames R. C. Harris, Charles Hoenig, Earl Ladd, William Whitehead, R. G. Carman, F. D. Frosch, J. G. Lumbird, R. A. McMahon.

Philanthropy

Philanthropy section members were guests Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. A. King, 223 South Bristol street. The time was spent working on quilts. Plans were made for a bazaar to be held in the spring.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. King.

Announcements

Ebell Book Review section will meet Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. E. B. Sprague, 1920 Victoria Drive. Mesdames S. W. Nau and C. P. Boyer will be assisting hostesses. Mrs. John Cloyes will review "Jonathon Bishop" and "Suzy" by Herbert Gorman.

Lincoln P. T. A. will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the school. H. J. Zabel will talk on "Juvenile Protection." Willard Junior High School Glee club will sing.

Twenty members took part in the event with Mrs. Guy Koons conducting a short business interval. Part of the time was given over to discussion of the mission-ary lesson.

Mrs. Matilda Lemon, cor-responding secretary and chairman of local parlor Native Daughters, was in Los Angeles Wednesday afternoon as a guest at a meeting and fashion show held by California Women of the Golden West. The affair was held at Ambassador hotel.

WALKING BEST INSURANCE FOR GOOD HEALTH

Mannequins To Parade Before Microphone

Another charming group of winsome mannequins will "parade" before KREG's microphone tonight, starting at 8 o'clock, during Sender's Smart Shop "Musical Fashion Parade" presentation.

Giving "intimate glimpses of intimate things" for milady, tonight's broadcast will include complete descriptions of the latest styles in street, formal and sports wear including hats, suits and dresses.

This feature broadcast is scheduled each Friday at the same hour.

Setting forth the benefits of walking as "health insurance" and giving 8 rules for foot-health, Richard A. Bradford, foot-comfort expert and proprietor of the Dr. A. Reed Shoe Store in Santa Ana will be heard during tonight's broadcast of "Healthy Feet", another in the series of extension of service broadcasts made from KREG each Friday at 7:45 p. m.

"Walking is the greatest, free, health insurance policy known to medical science," Bradford said. "Walking makes the graceful lines of the perfect figure and reduces surplus fat. It improves the respiration, provides exercise for practically every muscle in the body, improves the posture and is fine for the correction of nervousness."

"Some might interpret my desire to have people walk more from a hope to see people wear out more shoes. Perhaps that's part of it, as it's certainly a way to increase shoe sales, but the more important aspect is our duty to our customers, to the public and ourselves. We are proud to say that our main purpose at the Dr. A. Reed Shoe Store is to help as many people as we can to have healthy, happy feet and health and well-being," Bradford thereby contribute to their general declared.

ORCHESTRA AND PIPE ORGAN ON HART PROGRAM

In response to requests, tonight's presentation of "Hart's Harmonies" at 7:30 on KREG will offer the music of Emil Velasco and his organ melodies, combining the orchestra and pipe organ.

Selections will include "The Blue Danube", "Caprice Viennois", "The Old Spinning Wheel" and "In a Monastery Garden."

Further details concerning the dressmaking contest will be announced in addition to special values for women of Orange county.

"Hart's Harmonies" are scheduled each Friday at the same hour.

RADIO FEATURES

Speaking of them affectionately as "wheel turners," Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt will describe the duties of four of the members of the White House staff, including her personal colored maid, when she talks over KHZ at 5 this evening. The talk will be entitled "Making the Wheels Go Round in the White House."

Miriam Hopkins and Alan Mowbray, who play the respective roles of wife and husband in "Becky Sharp" will appear on "Hollywood Hotel" in a scene from the screen's adaptation of Thackeray's immortal "Vanity Fair." KHZ begins this broadcast at 6:30 tonight.

NURSE SCHOOL TEACHERS ON KREG TONIGHT

Miss Neil Hunt, administrative assistant for the Emergency Educational Program, and Mrs. Lee Frances Barrett, head nursery school teacher, will continue their discussion of the subject: "Educational and Social Significance of the Nursery School Movement" during the adult education broadcast from KREG tonight at 8:45.

Tonight's discussion was developed in a conference of nursery school teachers led by Dr. Kathryn McLaughlin in Los Angeles during the State Teachers' Institute.

This will be the third in the series of broadcasts concerning the nursery school and the series will continue through the month with broadcasts each Friday at the same hour.

KREG NOTES

A variety of foxtrots and waltzes, comprising the latest hit tunes of the day will be offered in tonight's broadcast of "Modern Rhythms" by the Valencia Ballroom from KHZ.

"The Closing Act" titles this week's "Front Page Drama" to be broadcast from KREG tonight at 8:45.

It is a tense drama of life behind the footlights and the tragedy that followed a mother's love torn between her daughter and her art.

The cast features Peggy Paige, radio and stage star.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardosa Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

AMONG THE NEW PLANTS

no doubt, to be added to our California horticulture.

The December "Geographic" contains a most interesting story of a plant exploration trip in the West Indies, undertaken by a group of agricultural explorers of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Says the author, "To land on one of the Tropics is the experience of a life time. It is like going down under the sea, or standing on the rim of a crater, or going up in a balloon, or falling in love." I have never experienced any of these sensations except the last, and it has been some time since I did any falling in love, but I can fancy the thrill in the heart of the explorer as his boat slips over the pell-mell waters of the Caribbean, under the cloudless tropical sky, white foam lacing the coral reefs of some little gem of an island, amidst whose waving palms and cascading vines he may hope to find some unknown plant, born to blush unseen until the hand of its discoverer tears it from its native habitation and carries it pridefully home, to be welcomed and named by waiting botanists, and tenderly nurtured until the fated willing, it takes its place among its fellows in the gardens of the world.

This was a sort of exploration de luxe and not to be mentioned in the same breath as the journeys to far and almost inaccessible places which intrepid plant explorers have made to gather seeds and bulbs whose descendants today brighten our gardens. But even so, our Department of Agriculture party found one new plant, a rare thing in these days, when the world has been so thoroughly searched by scientists. This new plant is an ornamental tree, 20 feet high, related to the hibiscus, and bearing cream-colored flowers as big as a large saucer.

It has been named "Armouria beata" "Armouria," in honor of Mr. Allison V. Armour, who research yacht carried the exploration party, and "beata," the name of the little uninhabited island upon which it was found.

But if they found but one plant absolutely new, they brought home 700 species and varieties of rare plants which are growing in experimental gardens in Southern Florida—"Shade and street trees, windbreak trees and hedge plants; garden vegetables and border flowers; pergola vines and ornamental shrubs; fruit trees and forage plants"—some of these destined, handsome large white flowers, large and unique seed pods. E. Nutans—6 feet. Has bright red flowers, excellent for cutting.

A rare plant, but one of amazing beauty, is the tree peony. The beloved peony of Eastern gardens is an herbaceous plant, dying to the ground each winter, but the tree peonies, natives of the Orient and happily adapted to our Southern California climate, grow into shrubs from three to five feet high. The plants sold here are grafted. After they have become well established so that roots have formed above the graft they form large clumps, bearing many blooms, up to a hundred sometimes.

The tree peony best known here is "Mountian," which has single to semi-double blooms of wine-purple with bright golden stamens. It does not look so much like the true peony as do the great double flowers of the rarer varieties, white, pink and rose. These plants are still a little expensive, $5 for a two to three-year old bush, but they are gorgeous things and most unusual, and if you can indulge in a little garden luxury, try one or more of these beauties. They thrive in partial shade or half sun and their culture is not difficult.

Most of these eucalyptus are small trees, only a few attaining a height of 25 feet, several of them 6 to 10 feet shrubs. Many of them have a most interesting foliage; the two sides of the leaf are identical and during extreme heat the leaves are held edge on to the sun to reduce evaporation. One wonders if they will forget this habit in our coastal gardens where the air is cool and moist.

One fine thing about these new species, they do not have a root system, so can be planted without causing surrounding plants to suffer, and consequently should be a most welcome addition to our shrubbery. Their form is varied and attractive, the foliage is evergreen and often quite handsome, the flowers showy and many fine for cutting. Some 25 are offered, but space will permit the naming of only a few of them. E. Torquata—small and slender growing tree (25 feet) with reddish trunk and branches, small leaves, deep rose colored flowers in clusters. E. caesia—20 feet, a slender tree of weeping habit foliage like dull silver, strikingly beautiful flowers, rose-colored with gold stamens, and blooms almost the year round. E. preissiana—18 feet. Wine red branches and large lemon yellow flowers. Very effective for cutting. E. Cinnamomea—8 feet.

whose presence was being implored, and who always appeared for cutting. E. Cinnamomea—8 feet.

Bill Banks was oddly formed leaves of dull as a dove in my imagination.

Wang, Mrs. H. H. Haggerty, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. Irene Couts and Mrs. Meade Shear, members; and Miss Lois Couts, Buena Park, and Mrs. M. V. Knott and Mrs. Robt. Law, Garden Grove as guests, were present when Mrs. Fred Law entertained her sewing club recently. Mrs. Loughboro will be hostess for the April meeting.

"African Jungle" and a group of novelty games were played when

Mrs. Harry Horn entertained her regional church with a buffet supper at her home. Guests were Helen Belitz, Delores Martin, Dona Law, Aileen Dix, Katherine Cunningham, Dorothy Chomister, Yvonne Miller, Carrie Mae McKenzie, Doris Gross, Jeanne Green-awalt, Beatrice Cromwell, May Arslanian and Marion Knott.

William Dow is assistant manager and John Rowland publicity manager of the walkathon being staged at the Orange County Athletic club.

Bill Banks sounds off about "Coffee-Floating"

PERHAPS Bill Banks and John Frazer planned the whole thing. No one knows. But at the same time John was panning Helen Banks' party to Jane, Bill was sounding off to Helen. He had just brushed his teeth and was winding the clock.

"Helen," he said, "everyone told you that party was swell. But I'll bet

if we had one of those lie-detecting machines handy, you would have had your eyes opened.

That coffee was surely feeble-tasting. It's been like that for months. You haven't been satisfied

either, because you've

floated around from one kind to another.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAL COCHRAN - ILLUSTRATED BY KING

© 1935 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Wee Ditty eyed the midgets who had come from eggs. "Gee, they can do most everything," she shouted. "We can have a little show."

"Imagine! There's a dancing girl, and I'd just love to see her whirl. I'll bet she knows more 'bout the art than we will ever knew."

"I want to watch the juggler. Gee, I'll bet he's clever as can be," said Duncy. "I can juggle, too. I'll join him in his stunts."

"Ha, ha," laughed Scouty. "Hark to that! Poor Duncy's juggling would fall flat. The thing for you to do, lad, is just sit and watch, for once!"

Then the old giant said, "Well, tots, apparently we've lots and lots of real good fun in store for us. Now listen to my plan."

"At my house I have boards galore, with which we'll build a little floor. In other words, we'll make a stage as quickly as we can."

"A good idea," Coppy cried. "There's nothing gained, if nothing's tried. Come on, lads, let's get busy. It won't take us very long."

"Our actor friends can sit and rest and watch us, while we do our best. We'll show them that, though we are little, we are pretty strong."

The giant then directed all the Tinymites. They heard him call, "You'll find some nails and hammers in the basement of my shack."

"And, too, get saws that you will need. With all those things we'll show some speed. Then, when you're through with my fine floor, be sure and put them back."

Real soon the clatter and the din of hammers made the giant grin. "You tots," said he, "are clever! You are doing very well."

"You work as if you're having fun, and soon the small stage will be done." "You bet it will," said Windy, "and I'm sure it will look swell."

Housewarming Is Held For Family

ORANGE, March 15.—A pleasant recent event was the housewarming given for W. L. Phillips and daughter, Miss Irene, and sons, Elmer and George, who are new residents of Orange, and who have established their home on South Grand street. The family is from Council Bluffs, Ia. A number of gifts were presented to the newcomers and refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Phillips of Olive, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Brown, Mrs. Maud Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hayes of Council Bluffs, Homer Phillips and Earl Phillips.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, March 15.—(UPI)—Re-newed last storm report of the southward shift to cover in the wheat pit today and prices rose to net gains of 3¢ to 1½ cent, with May at 82¢, July 84¢ and September 85¢. Buille crop report effect the market's weekly review, which said highly beneficial rainfall had fallen over a large territory and lifted the market out of an 8-week slumber. May futures touched a new low for March, 81¢, a touch new low for the season of 91¢ cents a bushel.

Corn moved up with wheat and closed to 4¢ in cent high, while wheat were depressed by continued weakness in rye and finished off ½ to ¾ cent.

A NEW PROGRAM FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE—LET'S GO!

The Chamber of Commerce is starting out on a new program.

It has a new secretary, a new set of directors, and it is outlining really a "New Deal." It is working on behalf of the business and commercial interests of Santa Ana and is really the agency of the total industrial, commercial and real estate interests of the city in advancing their valued plans.

The Chamber of Commerce has before it a great opportunity for fine service in the city. Asking nothing for itself from the taxpayers or the city government; carrying on by the contributions of the business and financial interests of the city, it occupies a powerful advisory attitude in helping our city's representatives to conduct a business administration, which means economy and impartiality.

One is strong in such a position and can do tremendous work in aiding when there is no personal gain or program for which he is asking appropriations from the taxpayer.

Uncoupled with such interest, we look forward to seeing the Chamber of Commerce not only a great value in selling Santa Ana to people of the county and elsewhere, but in aiding, in an advisory way, in keeping our city as a lure to the home-seeker, because the home owners' interests are in constant mind of all our leaders.

During the years of the rapid increase in population in our coast cities, the enhanced value of real estate, due to increased population and added sub-divisions, actually absorbed the increased cost to the taxpayers, so that many precedents were established in the use of taxpayers' money to aid in further development and attraction of home-seekers.

This was because it was really a tax-saving rather than a tax-spending program. In other words, there was more money taken in by the city than was paid out by the city.

In the last few years, not only in the West here, but all over the country, the reverse of this has come. Falling values have brought instantly the additional burden upon the taxpayer, forcing him, in the interest of self-preservation, to insist upon decreased governmental expense.

The things that could be cut out were the things that had to be cut out. And Santa Ana stands among the foremost cities of California in applying this principle.

And Santa Ana's Chamber of Commerce, during the days of the developing city, was naturally the beneficiary of the more liberal program, and it aided mightily in multiplying the population of the city.

Today it plans to carry on in harmony with the changed conditions and to advance the interest of all those of us who are benefitted by the contributions, through membership and otherwise, we make to the institution.

A committee entrusted with this kind of a program, under the leadership of one of our leading merchants, Mr. J. C. Horton, mapped out this kind of a program, and has carried it through to full fruition.

We desire to congratulate him and the committee on the completion of this service, and to assure the able secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Howard Wood, and the new board, the co-operation, through publicity and editorial support, of the Santa Ana Register.

We are joining as members and will make added contribution beyond the membership fee, to the carrying out of the fine objectives outlined by the management.

FAIRNESS TO ELECTED OFFICIALS

The members of the Townsend club are quite impatient with Senator Edwards because he voted against memorializing congress to pass the Townsend Old Age Pension act.

Immediately some of its leaders began to agitate for a "recall" of the senator. We are rather impressed that on mature reflection these men will not do this and would not want to do it, as a matter of fact.

If Mr. Edwards does not believe in the feasibility of the Townsend plan, he certainly would be recreant to his obligations if he voted for it. It by no means would follow that he is opposed to the principle of an old age pension.

We can well conceive that an important principle, upon which a public official might differ, would warrant the use of the recall. But certainly a difference in the method to achieve the end should not justify such a program, unless the official had gone back directly upon a specific pledge.

We would not be inclined to support any recall, unless the official had been so unfaithful as to amount to dishonesty. Whereas, certainly under these conditions, with the known sentiment in Orange county in favor of the Townsend plan, we cannot help being impressed that Senator Edwards expressed his deep conviction and that he must have hated to do it, against such a large group of faithful men and women, as are behind the Townsend movement in this county.

As we grow older, we are more and more impressed with the difficulties that honest men encounter in public office. We would call attention of our Townsend friends to Mr. McGroarty.

He has introduced the Townsend plan in congress. And yet he has been so importuned and abused through letters on other matters that even now he has grown sick and tired of the job.

Of Mr. McGroarty's altruistic spirit, his deep sympathy for all people, and his kindly and sympathetic nature, there can be no doubt. But he is so sensitive that he cannot stand the criticism and the opposition that must come to every man in public office who has a position that forces him to reach decisions.

Evidently Mr. McGroarty has said something about the reforestation of the Sierra Madre mountains. Now he has been in congress two months and a voter in his district noted that the trees had not yet been planted and of course Mr. McGroarty "was going back on his promises."

Mr. McGroarty's letter to his constituents was published along with the statement that he said he wanted to quit public office and would not run again. And he told this particular writer where he could go.

We are becoming more and more a nation of groups in our political life. We have a right, in fact, it is our duty, to combine for the interests of ourselves and our families.

We should learn how candidates stand in respect to those interests and vote accordingly. But, on the other hand, let us not try to injure the reputation of a man who was elected before the particular issue was brought up, and who exercises his honest judgment in determining his vote.

For we want that kind of men to represent us and we will have the opportunity to use this issue as the basis for the election of a man, at the next election, who believes in the particular measure, if the majority of the people have this view.

The cause of the Townsend Old Age Pension plan has progressed wonderfully. It has been almost phenomenal. Fairness and justice add to the growth of any institution. Finally, the success or failure will be determined by the people themselves.

CERTAINLY IT'S A LITTLE CROOKED

Bookmaking and race track betting is still a crooked game. Crooked in the sense that the dumb, the gullible ones, and the smart ones are taken in by the tricks of the game.

The pari-mutuel machines were supposed to have taken the crooked bookmaker out of the racing game. But that was only a joke.

During the past week a horse named "Southland Poet" and generally regarded as the best horse in the race unexpectedly paid $7.00 for each $1.00 bet. Behind those facts lies the story of a big betting coup, as dramatic as any shown by the movies.

The professional race horse gamblers are generally known as bookmakers. These men bet their own money against anyone who is willing to bet with them.

Since the adoption of the pari-mutuel system of betting they quite generally pay off at the odds as established by the pari-mutuel machines. In this case a bunch of "clever gamblers," as they like to be called, decided that if they would get enough money in the pari-mutuel machines at the race track against the best horse in the race then the odds that he would pay would be very handsome in case he won. And this is the very thing they did.

Now in order to recover the money they lost at the track they bet a much larger sum with the professional bookmakers or gamblers, and entered into an agreement with them that they would pay off at the odds as determined by the pari-mutuel betting at the track.

When the real favorite won as they had contemplated, the race track odds were very big considering the quality of the horse that won. Instead of paying off at the rate of $7.00 for each $5.00 bet, the bookmakers had to pay off at the rate of $7.00 to every $1.00 bet. Thus one set of gamblers succeeded in deceiving another set of gamblers and the squawks of the losers are reverberating throughout this crooked racket.

The betting public, like stage door Johnnies, just caught a glimpse of high life and easy money. The "big" money the bookmakers lost they lost to other professional gamblers. The two dollar gambler will as usual sit and lick his "chops" while he tells his pals or cronies how he had a hunch that he "should da" put his money on the favorite; and as usual he probably lost on this race as he does on most every other one.

Burden of Relief

New York Times

Though business and employment have improved substantially from their depression "low," the burden of relief continues to increase. More than 5,400,000 cases are now carried on the Federal rolls, and it is estimated that the dependents of these people bring the total number of those receiving Federal assistance to more than 20,000,000. Doubtless the increased demand for aid is explained in part by the exhaustion of personal savings. But it is reasonable to believe that a more important factor, after so long a drain on such savings, is the fact that many part-time workers, who formerly did not ask for public aid, now find in governmental largesse an opportunity to add to their incomes. Certainly, the increasing tendency of States and municipalities to force Washington to assume a larger share of the financial burden does not make for local responsibility in the administration of relief.

How far this tendency has gone is shown by a recently published summary of all public relief expenditures in 1934. The total bill amounted in round numbers to the large sum of $15,000,000,000. Of this the Federal Government furnished no less than 72 per cent, the State Governments 13 per cent and the local communities 15 per cent. But these are average figures for the country as a whole. In the case of many individual States the contribution of the Federal Government was even larger. There are, in fact, fifteen States in which this contribution amounted to 90 per cent or more. These fifteen States, with the percentage of the total public relief bill paid by the Federal Government in each case, are: Idaho, 90.9; North Dakota, 92.0; South Dakota, 93.7; Arkansas, 94.8; Alabama, 95.3; Georgia, 95.5; Tennessee, 95.6; Nevada, 96.6; South Carolina, 97.3; Wyoming, 97.7; Louisiana, 97.9; Mississippi, 98.1; North Carolina, 98.6; New Mexico, 99.1, and Florida, 99.9.

When the law establishing the Federal Emergency Relief Administration was passed by Congress, President Roosevelt insisted that the States and municipalities must "do their fair share" and "must not expect the Federal Government to finance more than a reasonable proportion of the total." Relief Administrator Hopkins has frequently emphasized the same principles, and on one occasion declared, speaking on behalf of FERA, that he was "thoroughly fed up on cities and States passing the buck to us, when people in their communities need and are not getting relief." Nevertheless, the proportionate share of the total cost paid by the Federal Government increased sharply in 1934 by comparison with 1933. It will doubtless continue to increase until the Administration actually fixes a "reasonable" limit beyond which it will not go.

Of Mr. McGroarty's altruistic spirit, his deep sympathy for all people, and his kindly and sympathetic nature, there can be no doubt. But he is so sensitive that he cannot stand the criticism and the opposition that must come to every man in public office who has a position that forces him to reach decisions.

Evidently Mr. McGroarty has said something about the reforestation of the Sierra Madre

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TO A CRICKET

All through the night and all day long
You lift your little voice in song

And, quite as far as I can learn,
You ask just nothing in return.

In vain we strew your lair with meat
Or other things we think you'll eat,

In vain we search the household through;
We never find a trace of you.

Each nook and cranny we explore
Beneath the stove, behind the door,

Through all which time you hold your breath,
Remaining there as still as death.

But just as soon as we depart,
Your unpremeditated art

Bursts forth in cheery little lays
In prophecy of better days.

You surely merit some reward,
Which we could easily afford;

We do not want you to forget
That we are deeply in your debt.

But you won't ever take your due;
I wish that people were like you!

IF EVER

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLEN FRANK

POLITICAL ROMANTICISM

If the New Deal should bog down to the point where popular hope of recovery through its policies vanishes, political realism will be confronted with a lush outpouring of political romanticism.

Everett Dean Martin, in his recently published book Farewell to Reform, sets down the salient features of romanticism as a way of thought and sentiment.

(1) Romanticism depends upon emotion rather than upon intelligence as a guide to behavior.

(2) Romanticism flees from reality and takes refuge in a rosy world of which imagination is the architect.

(3) Romanticism idealizes the things with which it deals.

(4) Romanticism is melodramatic with hero and villain in mortal combat and events moving to the grand climax.

(5) Romanticism is weary of the world around it and expresses this weariness by either running away from the world or setting out dramatically to revolutionize it.

The drastic proposals of the demagogues who will swarm around any stump of the New Deal will, upon examination, be found to have all five of the features of romanticism.

Nothing lasting for the national future can be achieved under "romantic" leadership of this sort.

The national future depends upon "realistic" leadership, trust to intelligence rather than emotion, sticks to stark reality and refuses to be seduced by impossible dreams of the imagination, and seeks to reconstruct the bridge while trafc is kept moving over it.

The Romantics have led to ruin every people and every period that followed them.

Let's stick by the Realists!
